HOUSES BATTLE ON APPOINTMENT OF SENATE PAGES

After Deadlock President and Messenger are Given Division of Patronage.

1912 ASSEMBLY ADJOURNS AT 1:13 THIS MORNING

Banking Bill Is Killed in Last Hours of the House—Night Session Was Passed in Long Fight Over Various Items in the Appropriations Bill, Senate Pages Consuming Most Time.

The old fight on the appointment of senate pages which precipitated the house and senate in a long-drawn-out conference last year was renewed in the dying hours of the 1912 session, and for three hours both houses of the general assembly were deadlocked.

When both houses were tired out by the struggle, there finally came a compromise by which the messenger will appoint for the first twenty-five days of the session and the president for the remaining twenty-five. This settled, the house and senate adjourned at 1:13 o'clock this morning.

The committees of both houses appointed to confer on the disagreements failed to reach a compromise on the page question which was brought up on an amendment tacked on by the senate to the deficiency appropriation bill. The house took a determined stand against the amendment, contending that both houses entered into a solemn agreement before the close of the last session.

"I'll stay here and fight the proposition all night, if necessary," declared Representative Carl Vinson, of Baldwin county, the bitterest opponent of the amendment. "The matter involves a question of principle with the house, and the members should oppose any attempt on the part of the senate to dictate to it in the dying hours of the session. The amendment conflicts with the law, and if the house lets the senate tack on this amendment it will set a precedent."

House Urged to Recede.

At midnight, when all efforts to reach an agreement appeared futile, Chairman Hardeman, of the rules committee, offered a resolution urging the house to recede from its position. This would have the effect of putting an end to conferences, and the senate would have gained its point, but the house was stubborn and voted the resolution down.

Representative McElreath, of Fulton, chairman of the committee on appropriations, was also voted down when he offered a motion to recede, and asked for the privilege of the floor to make a speech.

He declared that while he knew the amendment tacked on his bill was not germane, he realized that no important proposition of government was involved, and urged the house to give in.

Representative Vinson, of Baldwin, again opposed the attempt to get the house to give in to the senate.

The senate returned the bill to the house shortly after midnight with a message that the report of the conference committee of that body was

TAFT VETOES BUT THE HOUSE OVERRIDES HIM

Vetoed Steel Revision Measure Repassed in Two Hours After It Was Returned.

COTTON REVISION BILL PASSED BY THE SENATE

In Both House and Senate the Democrats Were Aided by Progressive Republicans—G. O. P. Leaders Angered by the Desertion of the Progressives.

Washington, August 14.—Repeating its action of yesterday when it passed the wool tariff bill over President Taft's veto, the house today repassed the vetoed steel and iron tariff bill, within two hours after it had been returned from the white house with the president's veto message. The vote was 173 to 83, a margin of only two votes over the necessary two-thirds.

The senate, at almost the same time, was engaged in passing the democratic cotton tariff bill, sent in a week ago by the house. Senator La Follette's substitute, which represented the views of the tariff board, was voted down, 46 to 16, and Mr. La Follette and eight other progressive republicans later joined the democrats and passed the bill, 36 to 19.

An amendment was attached repealing all but the pulp and paper section of the Canadian reciprocity law.

The repassed steel bill was sent immediately to the senate and reposed tonight with the wool bill among papers technically on the desk of the president of the senate. Both measures will be called up Friday by Senator Simmons, and an attempt made to repass them, but the democratic leaders have little hope they can obtain the necessary two-thirds vote.

Insurgents Aid Democrats.

Insurgent forces contributed to the success of the democratic tariff program. In the house the sixteen insurgents who voted with the democrats yesterday again joined them today, while nine insurgents in the senate joined in passing the democratic cotton bill.

Republicans who voted with the democrats in the house were:

Aiken, New York; Davis, Lindbergh and Steenerson, Minnesota; Haugen and Woods, Iowa; Kent, California; Kinkaid, Norris and Sloan, Nebraska; Lafferty, Oregon; La Follette, Washington; Rees, Jackson and Young, Kansas, and Morse, Wisconsin.

The insurgents who joined the democrats in the senate on the cotton bill were:

Borah, Idaho; Bourne, Oregon; Bristow, Kansas; Clapp, Minnesota; Cummins and Kenyon, Iowa; La Follette, Wisconsin; Poindexter, Washington, and Works, of California.

Democratic Leader Underwood demanded immediate action on the steel bill as soon as the president's veto message was received. There was a chorus of protests from the republican side, Minority Leader Mann declaring that only bills on the calendar could be considered.

Mr. Underwood retorted that a demand for immediate consideration was a constitutional privilege and could not be denied. Finally Speaker Clark

WILL NOT CHANGE SAYS TOM WATSON

"I Am in Democratic Party to Stay," He Declares.

"I Have Had No Communication With Mr. Hearst on Joining the Third Party or on Any Other Subject," Says the Editor.

"This is not an effort to help Wilson in the state of Georgia. It is an effort to discredit me. There is not a word of truth in the article. I have had no communication with Mr. Hearst on this or any other subject. I am in the democratic party and I am in it to stay."

Thus did Thomas E. Watson declare himself apropos of an article on the front page of The Journal of Wednesday, which stated that he was on the point of forming an alliance with Hearst for the purpose of supporting Roosevelt and the progressive party.

Mr. Watson spent last night at the Kimball house. He leaves early this morning for Barnesville, where he has a speaking date. He had not seen The Journal when he arrived, but was immediately shown the article in question.

Let Him Write Platform.

Further commenting on the story he said:

"The Journal crowd were glad enough to get me back into the party in 1906, and went so far as to let me write the platform in order to do so. They find they can use me no longer and they would read me out of it. I don't propose they shall do any such thing.

"The attitude of The Journal is childish and inconsistent. They don't care a tinker's dam for Wilson but they would like to hurt me. When Wilson was nominated I abided by the result and stated I would support the party's candidate. I am a good loser. I made a speech at Senoia in which I stated that I would support Wilson. I predicted for him the largest majority since 1908, and my remarks were received with enthusiasm.

"Immediately after this speech The Journal, in effect, told me to keep my mouth shut; that they were running things and that I would do more harm than good. I received no word from Mr. Wilson that my services would be welcome. He did not repudiate The Journal's article. Consequently I have kept silent. I could pursue no other course with respect for myself.

"The idea of my leaving the party, however, is absurd, and The Journal knows it. I have received many communications from subscribers advocating Roosevelt, but I have not published them, for the reason that I did not wish to be misconstrued.

Had Heard the Report.

"Some time ago one of The Journal reporters showed me a telegram from Washington, in which it was stated I would be Roosevelt's manager in this state. I stated then that there was no truth in the report.

"The veriest political tyro ought to be able to see through the present attack of The Journal on me."

DIES AFTER DRINKING HALF PINT OF ALCOHOL

Athens, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Jodie Hamilton, a well-known painter of Athens, died about 1 o'clock after drinking nearly a half pint of chemically pure alcohol.

He was at work on the campus of the University of Georgia, doing some interior painting, and the alcohol had been left in the laboratory of Terrell hall. The man drank the liquid, not with suicidal intent, but ignorant of the serious effects which might follow.

WALTER E. HAWES DROWNED TRYING TO SAVE WOMAN'S LIFE

Walter E. Hawes gave his life Wednesday morning, at St. Simon's, in the attempt to save Miss Emma Adele Finch, of Atlanta, from drowning while she was enjoying the early morning dip in the surf. Both ventured out too far, and a high wave washed them off their feet. Hawes was lost in an effort to reach her. She was rescued in a serious condition by Lee Arnold, of the Arnold hotel.

Hawes was 19 years old, and lived at 155 Crumley street with his mother and stepfather, J. S. Rose, of the Santa Fe railroad. He was well known in the city, employed in the offices of the T. S. Lewis company, and was a leader in the young people's work at the Baptist Tabernacle.

He went to St. Simon's for his vacation last Saturday, expecting to stay two weeks. Only an hour after he was drowned, a letter was received from his mother wishing him a good time on the island, but cautioning him to be careful when in the surf.

Early morning bathing is a popular diversion at the resort, and on Wednesday morning the tide was out sufficiently to permit bathing shortly after 7 o'clock. Young Hawes and his friend were among the first to go rolling through the breakers. No one noticed them, until venturing beyond their depth they were swept outward by a high wave.

Hawes was seen to fight his way toward the spot where the young woman went down, then he was lost to view as the undertow caught him. Lee Arnold was standing on the beach, and at once went to the rescue. The young woman was brought to the surface just in time, but on being resuscitated suffered keenly from the nervous shock of seeing her friend drown.

The news was received by Mr. Rose Wednesday morning before the body was recovered. He at once left for Brunswick, and later advices state that the body was found Wednesday afternoon. It will be brought to Atlanta for funeral and interment. Besides his mother, the young man is survived by two sisters and several uncles and aunts.

SHE CHOSE DEATH TO ESCAPE DISHONORABLE MOTHERHOOD

St. Louis, Mo., August 14.—(Special.) Choosing death in preference to a dishonorable motherhood which she feared had been forced on her by an attendant in the city insane asylum while she was unconscious, Mrs. Hallie Forrest, daughter-in-law of General Nathan Bedford Forrest, Kuklux Klan organizer and dashing leader of the confederate cavalry, ended her life this afternoon with carbolic acid in Forrest park.

On her breast was pinned the picture of her son, taken when he was 16 years lod and a military cadet.

The body now lies at the morgue, awaiting the inquest and an autopsy, which will prove whether her fears of motherhood were a hallucination of her mind or evidence of a grim tragedy enacted on a patient in the seclusion of the city institution.

In her purse were pathetic notes, calling upon God to witness her claim of having been dishonored while helpless. "They laced me so tight in a strait-jacket that I was made unconscious, and it was during this time that this was done to me," says one passage in the note.

In another place she refers to her chastity as follows:

"I am as moral a woman as ever lived. I could not be other than this after my rearing."

In another note she expressed a realization of the handicap which her mental affection gives to her tory, as follows:

"I am under a fearful disadvantage, and can make no one believe that what I know to be true is so."

Mrs. Hallie Forrest was the second wife of William M. Forrest, son of General N. B. Forrest. They were married in 1893, and lived in St. Louis until the death of Forrest several years ago. Her maiden name was Hallie Faris. She was the daughter of Captain C. W. Faris, a famous Memphis horsebreeder. General Nathan Bedford Forrest, Jr., of Memphis, is a relative. He has been for five years adjutant general of the Sons of the United Confederate Veterans.

J. J. BROWN BADLY INJURED IN FALL FROM AUTOMOBILE

J. J. Brown, assistant commissioner of agriculture and candidate to succeed J. J. Connor in that office, was very seriously injured last night near Buckhead, when he was taken suddenly ill while riding in a fast moving automobile and pitched headlong to the ground.

When picked up Mr. Brown was unconscious and at a late hour last night still had physicians with him, showing no change in his condition. His jaw is broken, his face is frightfully lacerated and it is feared that he has suffered a concussion of the brain.

Physicians said last night that all immediate speaking dates arranged in the interest of the candidacy of Mr. Brown would have to be cancelled for the present.

The details of the accident are meager. Mr. Brown was one of a party of ladies and gentlemen enjoying an automobile ride out Peachtree road. Mr. Brown's nephew was driving and Mr. Brown sat on the front seat with him.

At Buckhead the party enjoyed a watermelon cutting, and they had hardly re-entered the machine when the commissioner began to feel ill. He complained to his friends, but insisted that the ride be continued. He gradually grew worse, and the machine was speeded up to carry him to medical assistance.

Suddenly he pitched forward and fell completely out of the car. He was picked up badly hurt and is at his residence on Capitol place.

PEDIGREED BULLDOG VOTED IN PLACE OF A NEGRO VOTER

Washington, August 14.—A pedigreed bulldog was voted in place of a negro voter in the election of Representative James A. Hughes, republican, of West Virginia, according to the report prepared by the house committee investigating Hughes' election. The report will arraign franchise conditions in Hughes' district, it is said. Rights of Representative Hughes, Representative Crage, republican of Pennsylvania, and Representative Wilson, republican of Illinois, to their seats will be sustained.

BILLS PASSED AT THIS SESSION OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF STATE

The following are the most important of the bills passed by both the house and the senate this session of the legislature:

The Ault committee bills, limiting number of inspectors, providing for inspection of gasoline, benzine, and naptha, and requiring the fertilizer tax to be paid into the state treasury before any expenses are paid.

The Harris substitute fertilizer bill, preventing the manufacture or sale of fertilizer containing filler unless so specified on sack or tag.

A bill providing for the creation of the office of lieutenant-governor, who shall act as president of the senate. This bill will not become a law since several companion bills have not been passed.

Bills creating the new counties of Bleckley and Wheeler.

A bill providing for a change of venue for electrical power companies operating in Georga.

The general insurance bill.

General deficiency appropriation bill.

Special appropriation bill.

The Atlanta amendments bill.

Bill to require all promissory notes taken for mining stock to have consideration and specification of said stock on face of notes.

The farmers' free list bill, exempting certain articles from taxation for a year.

A bill to provide for the appointment of an official cotton weigher in every cotton-growing county in Georgia.

The Tallulah Falls resolution requesting the governor to instigate a suit against the power company developing the falls.

A bill requiring all passenger cars operating on Georgia lines to have cinder deflectors.

Abolition of the justice system in cities over 20,000 population, with the exception of Savannah.

A bill prohibiting cemetery officials to discriminate against certain kinds of coffins.

A resolution expressing the disapproval of the Georgia legislature of the manner in which congress passed the Bristow amendment.

The bill allowing the pulling of mileage on trains.

A bill known as the "blue sky" law, which is aimed at fraudulent stocks and bonds.

A bill strengthening the present game and fish laws of the state.

A bill repealing the tax on dogs.

The Tippins bill, killing near-beer saloons and locker clubs, passed by both houses, but vetoed by governor. House refused to pass again over veto.

FIGHT CHALLENGE HURLED IN HOUSE

Westmoreland and Adkins in Clash Over Bill.

Women Attorneys Bill Killed at Afternoon Session—Hall and DeFore Have Warm Passage in the Morning Meeting.

A challenge to fistic combat hurled across the floor by Representative A. A. Adkins, of Dooly, at Representative George Westmoreland, of Fulton, threw the house into a furore yesterday afternoon.

The excitement caused by this passage of words, and the frivolous mood which generally characterizes the last day of the session, were largely responsible for the defeat of the bill to admit women to the bar in Georgia, the measure being indefinitely postponed by a vote of 65 to 61.

The enmity between Messrs. Adkins and Westmoreland cropped out when the bill to authorize railroads in Georgia to exchange transportation for advertising was called up for passage. The squabble started when Representative Parker, of Liberty, declared that, although he was a member of the committee that reported the bill favorably to the house, he had no knowledge of it ever being taken up.

Not Reported Back Properly.

"I don't remember of ever being called into committee meeting to discuss this bill," added Representative Westmoreland. "I certainly would have voted against it."

He intimated, further, that the bill was not reported back to the house properly.

Arising to a point of personal privilege after the bill had been tabled and lost, Representative Adkins explained that he took the bill to members of the committee and asked them to consent to a favorable report, in order that the measure might get a just hearing before the house. He offered to name the members of the committee who consented to agree to the report, and then declared that any intimation that the bill was unfairly considered was false.

"If the gentleman is not satisfied with that, I'll meet him outside the door," he challenged with considerable heat.

Mr. Westmoreland declared from the floor that he did not charge that unfair methods were used to bring the bill before the house. He was further urged by friends to make no reference to the challenge to fistic combat.

Peace Is Made.

When the incident was smoothed over, friends went to the belligerent members and patched up a peace pact.

The house was in a playful mood throughout the entire afternoon session, and the "woman's attorney" bill suffered as a consequence. Women crowded the galleries, and friends and advocates of the measure invaded the floor up to the last minute to keep alive the sentiment raised for the measure.

A howl of dissatisfaction arose on the floor when the bill was read by Clerk McClatchey as the next order of business. A woman in the gallery arose and shrieked when cries for the postponement of the bill were raised by its opponents. The noise and clamor was so great that Speaker Holder was forced to suspend the house for five minutes while the doorkeepers suppressed persistent lobbyists.

The bill was attacked at the outset, a motion being offered for tabling the bill. It was voted down, 53 against and 46 for.

Argued for the Bill.

Representative Fullbright, of Burke,

VOW TO DESTROY SYSTEM OF GRAFT AND BLACKMAIL

Great Meeting of New York Citizens Is Held in Cooper Union.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE NAMED BY THE MEETING

Dr. Abbott and Other Speakers Declare That Civilization Is Challenged by the Developments That Have Coome to Light in the Rosenthal Case.

New York, August 14.—The resolute determination of the citizens of New York to rid their police force of its system of graft and blackmail was given forcible expression tonight at a mass meeting at Cooper union, when they appointed a vigilance committee of prominent men and women to see that public officers now engaged in exposing "the treasonable alliance of the police with organized crime" do their full duty.

The mass meeting which typified the public indignation aroused by revelations of police corruption growing out of the murder of Herman Rosenthal was attended by a crowd that overflowed the hall. There were 4,000 persons in the auditorium with hundreds standing up, while blocking the streets outside were thousands more who clamored for admittance.

It was one of the largest "town meetings" held in the city in years and there was no mistaking the earnestness which pervaded the gathering as it voiced its approval of the denunciation of the police "system" which prominent speakers on the program employed when speaking of existing conditions.

Vigilance Committee Named.

The resolution appointing the vigilance committee, which was given the power to increase its number to thirty and to solicit funds and to engage counsel called "upon the police department to put forth additional efforts looking to the arrest of all those implicated in the Rosenthal murder; upon the district attorney to bend every energy of his office, as he has been doing, to the apprehension and conviction of those guilty of this crime; upon the aldermanic investigating committee to make a thorough, non-partisan and unsparing examination into existing conditions and into causes which give rise to systems of blackmail and graft and to propose remedies by which these causes may be removed, and upon the citizens and officials having information on these conditions to lay it before the district attorney or the aldermanic committee in the full confidence that they will be protected against terrorism and oppression of every sort."

From All Walks of Life.

On the platform from which Abraham Lincoln delivered an address at the opening of Cooper union in 1860 sat representative men and women in all walks of life. Speakers included District Attorney Whitman, Dr. Lyman Abbott, Rabbi Samuel Schull, Alderman Henry H. Curran, chairman of the aldermanic police investigating committee; Emory R. Buckner, counsel for the committee; Henry De Forest Baldwin and Mrs. Charles H. Israel, who is a prominent social worker.

District Attorney Whitman was "the hero of the hour," and received a tremendous ovation when he arose to speak.

When Mr. Whitman finally began his speech he frequently was interrupted by spontaneous cries of approval which had not been given to the other speakers until they had finished their addresses.

Challenge to Civilization.

"I want to say just this," said Mr. Whitman: "The killing of Herman Rosenthal was a murder, of course—an awful murder, but it was more than that. In the light of all circumstances connected with it, it was a challenge to our very civilization itself.

"It is not a question of who or what Rosenthal was, or who may be mayor or who may be police commissioner, or who may be district attorney; it is not a question of Becker or a few men who may or may not have been accomplices. It is a question of whether it is possible for four hired murderers to commit an atrocious crime in the heart of this city and get leisurely away. Unfortunately, these are the conditions. As I said before, that is the challenge to the civilized nation of the twentieth century—to the city of New York.

"And the police department of the city and the district attorney's office of the county and the courts of New York are going to unite on this proposition to demonstrate to the people of the world that the man does not live, whoever he may be, who in this city can with impunity set at defiance the majesty, the dignity, the sovereignty of the law."

Democracy on Trial, Says Dr. Abbott.

Dr. Lyman Abbott declared that "democracy is on trial tonight in this, our city."

"An uninforced law," he said, "is notning but a good intention, and we are learning now that good intentions pave the highway to hell. A city which makes laws and is not able to enforce them is a city with a flabby will. It is not enough that democracy knows what is right, democracy must have the power to enforce the right, or democracy is a failure.

"It would be better to have a Monte Carlo in the vicinity of New York under legal regulation than gambling hells scattered over the city under the protection of the police. We think ourselves virtuous, more virtuous than Monte Carlo, because we prohibit gambling and then permit it. Gambling is a dastardly and vile vice, but it is not so great a vice as hypocrisy is and a city which pretends to prohibit gambling and does not do it is guilty of hypocrisy.

"I believe it is up to us—the plain people of this city—to declare in language that cannot be misunderstood that law shall be a terror to evildoers."

BANKS AIDING AUTHORITIES IN RUNNING DOWN GRAFTERS

New York, August 14.—Although Police Lieutenant Becker, charged with instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal, denied to his counsel today that he ever possessed the sum of $58,845 credited to his name or that of his wife in various New York banks, District Attorney Whitman today obtained from the officials of the Chelsea Exchange bank records showing that the police officer had deposited $3,500 in that institution during April, bringing the recorded total of Becker deposits up to $62,345.

The securing of this record was another result of the aid which has been promised by powerful banking interests in the district attorney's efforts to expose blackmail in the police force, the bankers having promised to furnish him with the amounts of deposits of any high police official whom he suspects of collecting graft. The prosecutor heard also today of still another deposit of $3,500 which was recently withdrawn by Becker's wife. There are still four other banks with Becker's deposits to be heard from.

Rosenthal's alleged slayers will be brought to trial by the district attorney without delay. His present plan is to try them separately and to begin the first trial in September. Lieutenant Becker will probably be the last man to be tried. Mr. Whitman believes that he has an easy case against "Dago Frank" Cirofici and "Whitey" Lewis, two of the alleged actual murderers, and that their conviction will be but a matter of a few days.

SCHEPPS AGREES TO RETURN WITH THE AGENT OF WHITMAN

Hot Springs, Ark., August 14.—Suddenly changing his mind tonight, Sam Schepps, arrested here last Saturday night and held as a material witness in the Rosenthal murder case, announced his willingness to return to New York with Assistant District Attorney Rubin. Postmaster Johnson advised him to accept as conclusive the telegram received by Acting Mayor Pettit today, giving a description of Rubin and Detective Stewart. Bernard Sandler, Schepps' attorney, probably will arrive late tonight or tomorrow. Rubin is expected to start for New York with Schepps sometime tomorrow.

Schepps' decision to return to New York with the two representatives of Mr. Whitman came after a day of indecision. Schepps' attitude seemed to be that of wavering between fear that the men who arrived today were not Rubin and Stewart, and a belief that perhaps after all they were. Early in the day he professed to be dissatisfied because Rubin could not fully identify himself as the district attorney's representative. Acting Mayor Pettit, of Hot Springs, sent a message to Mr. Whitman requesting that an accurate description of the men sent from his office be sent by telegraph.

The district attorney replied, the descriptions tallied with the men here and tonight Schepps agreed to be given into their custody.

During the day Rubin showed Schepps an acknowledgement of payment made to an insurance company, a letter written by William Rubin, his brother, and such other documents as he happened to have with him. Schepps first would say "It looks all right," but the next moment his attitude would change and his indecision continued until tonight.

HOUSES BATTLE ON SENATE PAGES

sustained, and that it would not recede from its position.

Speaker Holder appointed Messrs. Cabaniss, Nix and Hixon a committee to again confer with the senate committee, the senate asking that the committee be sent over for an immediate conference.

Who Shall Appoint?

Boiled down, the contention in question was who should appoint the senate pages, the president or the messenger? The contest last session resulted in a decision that the pages be appointed by the president. This was not satisfactory to the senate and the fight followed.

The house offered a compromise to the effect that the appointment of pages for the first twenty-five days of the next session be left to the messenger, and for the remainder of the session the president be vested with absolute power.

Appointments Divided.

At 1:40 o'clock the committee appointed to confer with the senate returned to the house with a report urging that the house agree to the compromise authorizing the appointment of pages by the messenger for the first twenty-five days, and by the president of the senate the remaining twenty-five days.

Strong opposition was manifested until Chairman Hardeman, of the rules committee, arose and reminded the house that it could not adjourn until the appropriation bill is passed. He also called attention to the fact that by law the house stood adjourned at midnight, but was legally in session.

"I admire the stand the members have taken, but I want to inform you that as a matter of law the governor will be compelled to issue his proclamation calling the house to meet in extraordinary session in the event this bill is not adopted."

Chairman Sways Sentiment.

The remarks of the chairman of the rules committee swayed the sentiment.

In the midst of debate the senate sent its message to the house informing it that it had adopted the compromise, and that it was ready to inform the governor that the body would adjourn.

The vote was taken on the report of the conference committee of the house, and the report was agreed to.

The appointment of the pages will, therefore, be divided between the president of the senate and the messengr.

At 1:13 the gavels in both houses fell, and the 1912 session passed into history as the weary members trudged their way to their places of abode.

The bill proposing an amendment to the constitution for the creation of the office of lieutenant governor was taken up in the house early in the night.

The bill is a companion to the bill introduced by Representative Adams, of Hall, in the house. The house bill was defeated, and the senate bill was passed with an amendment providing for the manner of electing a president pro tem. of the senate to preside at such time as the president is occupying the governor's chair.

The house defeated the senate bill by refusing to agree to the senate amendment.

The vote on the measure was 103 for and 20 against, lacking 20 votes of receiving a constitutional majority required to pass a constitutional amendment.

Banking Bill Defeated.

The "banking bill" went to defeat by default, Representative Turner, the author, who worked so hard and faithfully, offering the motion to table when he realized that the house was in no mood to listen to three hours' reading of the bill.

A resolution was offered by Representative Vinson returning the thanks of the house to Mr. Turner for his work on the bill.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

The house took a recess for thirty minutes, while the officers and attaches were presented with parting tokens from the members.

At midnight, with the conference committees wrangling over the appointment of pages, the house sent a message to the senate that it was ready to adjourn sine die.

RATES ARE DISCUSSED BY THE FURNITURE MEN

Winston-Salem, N. C., August 14.—Proposed changes in freight rates was the principal subject discussed at the annual meeting of the Southern Furniture association here today. A committee was named to take such steps as necessary before the interstate commerce commission in opposition to the new rate of $2 instead of $1.70 as heretofore. The new rate is effective September 1. A mutual insurance company was advocated by W. J. McNaughton, of Morganton, and a committee was appointed to report at the next annual meeting.

TENNESSEE DEMOCRATS IN CONVENTION TODAY

Nashville, Tenn., August 14.—The day preceding tomorrow's democratic state convention finds the interest in that convention centering in the party's declaration on the liquor question. The main business of the delegates will be to adopt a platform on which former Governor Benton McMillin, nominee in the August gubernatorial primary, will make the race against Governor Hooper.

Views are divided as to the liquor plank. Some democrats are urging that the platform declare that the question is one for the legislature to decide, while others favor a declaration for local option in the four large cities.

A vigorous debate on the subject in the convention is expected. K. T. McConnico, Nashville attorney, will probably be temporary chairman.

CHILD LABOR BILL LOST IN SENATE

Efforts Made to Override Rules Committee End in Failure.

The legislature adjourned sine die this morning at 1:13 o'clock, although the clocks had been set back in both houses, so that when the final fall of the gavel was heard the hands of the electric clocks pointed to the midnight hour.

Practically the whole night was spent in several amendments to the general appropriation bill, teh chief of which was as to the appointing of the pages. After three conference committees of the house and senate it was finally agreed by compromise that the messenger should appoint the pages for the first twenty-five days and the president for the remaining twenty-five.

The child labor bill was time and again attempted to be placed upon its passage, but each time the motion was lost either through the refusal of the committee on rules to give it a place on the calendar or through a direct vote of the senate.

The general insurance bill, which has for a long time been pending in the senate, was finally passed by a unanimous vote. The amendment fixing 10 per cent of the capital stock of a company as a maximum for any agent to receive remains on the bill, although Senator Sheppard attempted to have the clause stricken. The policy value amendment, tacked on by the house, was lost in the senate and the house did not insist upon its amendment. This passes the bill in practically the form in which it was drawn and advocated by many prominent insurance companies and their agents.

The following bills were passed by the senate:

House bill amending an act establishing the city court of Moultrie.

House bill to create board of stationary engineers and firemen for Savannah.

A resolution to pay Mrs. Lydia Carroll, of Walker county, a pension of $60 per month.

House bill to recede jurisdiction to the United States over Fort Oglethorpe.

CONWAY HUTCHESON CLAIMS HIS BRIDE

Conway Hutcheson, who a short time ago married pretty Miss Mary McEachein, of Denton, Ga., reached Atlanta yesterday and joined his young bride, who had appealed to the police to find him.

Mr. Hutcheson declares that he had never deserted his wife and that there was no reason for her alarm, nor for the stories that have appeared in the newspapers about his wedding. His wife's search for him, he states, grew out of the fact that she misunderstood instructions he gave her.

He is in the mail order, merchandise and brokerage business and states that he left Denton to make a business trip to Milledgeville, returning then to Atlanta. He says that he wrote a number of letters to his wife, but that they never reached her.

He declares that he has a postoffice box in Atlanta, keeps the postmaster informed of his whereabouts and that there was no reason to believe that he was missing.

Depositors Rush for Dividends.

New Orleans, August 14.—Hundreds of depositors, representing all classes and conditions of life, crowded through the doors of the defunct Teutonia bank here today, when the first dividend, one of twenty-five per cent, was paid by the receiver. The Teutonia was closed several months ago by the state bank examiner, coincident with the arrest of several of its officers on the charge of misappropriating and embezzling a large part of its funds.

SKIN TROUBLE DISFIGURED FACE

Blisters Itched and Burned. Rubbed and they Burst. Face Full of Sores. Kept from Sleeping. Suffered Terribly. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

3107 Foster Ave., Baltimore, Md.—"About five months ago little blisters appeared on my face. They looked like blisters from fire burns. They itched and burned something terrible, which caused me to rub them and they burst, then sores appeared which disfigured my face. My face was all full of sores. The disease spread from my face to my neck and back. When anything touched them they would burn and stick to my clothes, which kept me from sleeping and made me suffer terribly.

"I used home remedies, then they became worse so I was obliged to undergo a treatment and I used a salve but it did no good. I suffered about three months then I saw the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and I thought I would send and get a sample and try them. I used the sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me a great deal, so I bought some and used them about two months and they completely cured me." (Signed) Edward V. Thomas, Mar. 26, 1912.

For treating poor complexions, red, rough, hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorites for more than a generation. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

TEDDY AND GEORGE PUT IN PILLORY

Stanley Reviews Relations of Roosevelt and Perkins.

Chairman of Steel Trust Probing Committee Alleges That Roosevelt, While President, Cared for the Trusts Represented by Perkins.

Washington, August 14.—The personal and political relations of Theodore Roosevelt and George W. Perkins, formerly of J. P. Morgan & Co., were bitterly attacked on the floor of the house today by Representative A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, who is chairman of the steel trust investigating committee.

In a speech supporting his bill to make the reports of commissioner of corporations available for congress, Representative Stanley charged that Perkins had protected the harvester trust from government prosecution and described Perkins as the "go-between" of "big business and the government."

Representative Stanley's characterizations of the former Morgan associate were extremely bitter. He dwelt at length on the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the United States corporation, and charged that Perkins had been able to get from Herbert Knox Smith, former commissioner of corporations, information which was denied congress. The progressive party came in for an extended discussion at the hands of Stanley.

Suggests Battle Cry.

"I hear that this new party of progressive capitalism," he said, "will sing hymns between the tirades of Roosevelt and the platitudes of Perkins, and that Perkins is to be choir leader. I would suggest that they paraphrase the war cry of the Turkish janizaries, and adopt it as the battle hymn of the 'Faithful from Wall street.'

"'Allah! Allah! Mammon is Allah!

"'There is no God but Mammon and Morgan is his prophet.'"

In his attack on Perkins Mr. Stanley said:

"For several years the chief intermediary between big business and those who were invested by the executive department with the duty of investigating it has been a gentleman by the name of George W. Perkins. For years this fanatically ardent partisan has broken through all restraints which deter better men, and has unhesitatingly sacrificed every other obligation to society and to himself in the secret service of his party.

Gave Money to Others.

"In 1904 Mr. Perkins, in his eagerness to aid his party and his hero, Mr. Roosevelt, actually donated $50,000 of other people's money to the good cause. He gave his personal check to Mr. Bliss and was reimbursed by check of the New York Life Insurance company—No. 7283—payable to J. P. Morgan & Co. The proceeds of this check were traced to Mr. Perkins and for this eminent service he was arrested under a warrant charging him with grand larceny.

"Perkins knew the consent of the policyholders was necessary to save this appropriation of their funds from the guilt of common larceny, and that consent was not and could not have been obtained. Who were these pilfered policyholders? The most pathetic and helpless figures in all this vale of tears. The young mother wrapped in the black habiliments of woe prostrate on the new-made grave of her once loving lord, orphans wailing the name of father above the silent dead.

"He robbed the widow of her slender patrimony and snatched the last crum from the pinched fingers of helpless childhood. In all the loathsome annals of greed and graft there is nothing so sordid and pitiless as the creature who did it.

"This man escaped a prison cell by the skin of his teeth for having picked the pockets of a shroud for the use and benefit of the republican party."

Envoy of the Trusts.

Mr. Stanley declared that later Mr. Perkins came to Washington as "envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from J. P. Morgan & Co., the harvester and steel trusts."

After reciting that Senator Hansbrough was at that time demanding an investigation of the International Harvester company, Mr. Stanley said:

"It was to stay the department of justice and to silence the demands of Senator Hansbrough and to solicit the aid of the commissioner of corporations and of the president of the United States that Mr. Perkins made his unheralded appearance in the city of Washington. Here he remained for weeks, oscillating between the department of commerce and labor and the white house with the familiarity of a friend and the insolence of an ally. Upon the commissioner of corporations he exhausted all his powers of cajoling and coercing. He reminded him of his great services and unique liberality to the party and the precious and long-standing friendship which had been so beneficial to the house of J. P. Morgan & Co. and to the administration of Roosevelt.

"So impressed was the commissioner of corporations with the necessity of suppressing the harvester investigation and preventing any further procedure against the other 'far-reaching Morgan interests' that he forgot the seal which the law had placed upon his lips. Facts which were withheld from the highest lawmaking body of the land were freely revealed to the emissary of the steel and harvester trusts."

Absorption of Tennessee Coal.

Reviewing the information as to the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the steel corporation secured by the Stanley steel investigating committee, Mr. Stanley said:

"The severest critic of Colonel Roosevelt can hardly conceive that he would in twenty minutes have commissioned the steel corporation to crush its last competitors, had he possessed one-tenth of the information which the commissioner of corporations was afterwards forced by the investigations of this committee and the pressure of public opinion to publish to the world. As suggested by the commissioner of corporations, the investigation of the harvester trust was summarily stopped.

"The assurance of Mr. Perkins that the "far-reaching influences of the Morgan company, the harvester and steel trusts were not to be sneezed at" appears to have had great weight with the chief executive.

The Colonel and the Masters.

"On this occasion," concluded Mr. Stanley, "the colonel assumed the same relative position toward the masters from Wall street that the Lord assumed toward the devil. The Savior said 'Get thee behind me, Satan,' and Roosevelt said 'I will stand in front of you, O Steel Trust, I will paralyze the strong arm of the law, I will silence the voice of public clamor, and I will deliver to you bound and helpless the industrial dominance of the south,' and for that service worth multiplied millions to the United States corporation it has not been lacking in gratitude from the day of the merger until this good hour. Perkins and Cary, brothers of the steel corporation, have been absolutely at the command of the ex-president of the United States.

"They were with him in the old party and they have staged and supported this political 'Punch and Judy' performance lately pulled off in Chicago in which they fantastically figure. Roosevelt, McCormick and Perkins play their little parts, find their exits and entrances and take their cue from this insolent combination of political and financial highbinders which did not hesitate to rob a grave for the campaign fund in 1904 and which is now entrusted with the duty of providing provender for the 'Bull Moose.'"

He has for the past seven years been connected with Eiseman Bros. and for past several years, chief of the furnishing goods business of that store.

UMSTED OWES $225,000 TO A BOSTON COMPANY

Chicago, August 14.—Examination of the schedule of liabilities aggregating more than $1,500,000 filed in the United States district court by Franklin A. Umsted, who listed only $210 in assets, although he had sought to organize a $15,000,000 steel company, today disclosed that he alleges that he is indebted to the amount of $225,000 to the Union Trust company, of Boston, and not to the New York company of the same name at first mentioned as a creditor.

Umsted sought to combine independent steel companies to fight the United States Steel corporation. His venture was incorporated in 1903 under the laws of Maine. The attempt failed and memory of it was revived by the filing of the petition for judicial relief from the enormous debt.

O'NEAL INVESTIGATES ALLEGED LYNCHING

Montgomery, August 14.—(Special.) An investigation of the shooting of a negro near Livingston, in Sumter county, two weeks ago by a posse of white men was begun by Governor O'Neal Monday afternoon. The governor wrote to Sheriff John P. Ramsey, of Sumter county, and to the judge of the circuit court of that district for information concerning the killing of the negro.

The negro shot by the posse is alleged to have killed Vernon Tutt, a resident of Sumter county. Two other negroes are said to have been implicated in the killing of Tutt.

According to information which the governor received, a lynching followed the shooting of Tutt, and the goverpor is seeking to ascertain whether or not this was true.

In his letter to Sheriff Ramsey, the governor is most explicit with reference to the facts he wishes to ascertain. He asked what steps had been taken towards the prosecution of the men who shot the negro, and whether or not any arrests have been made.

"I am determined that a lynching shall not occur in Alabama, without a thorough investigation," said Governor O'Neal Monday afternoon. "Such cases occur too frequntnly in the state, and I shall use every means in my power to bring all guilty parties to justice, regardless of their influence or social standing."

The governor will probably order a complete investigation of the killing of the negro in Sumter county following the receipt of additional information regarding the case.

CHAIRMAN HILLES SOME CLAIMANT

He Says Taft Will Get 34 State and Wilson 10—Four States Doubtful.

Chicago, August 14.—Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the republican national committee, tonight issued a statement claiming thirty-four states with a total electoral vote of 384 for the republican ticket and conceding ten states, with an electoral vote of 114, to the democratic party. He listed four states, with an electoral vote of 34, as doubtful and conceded no state to the progressives.

Following are figures submitted by Mr. Hilles in what he calls a preliminary survey of the political situation:

Claimed by Republicans.

Colorado, 6; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Idaho, 4; Illinois, 29; Indiana, 15; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Kentucky, 13; Maine, 6; Maryland, 8; Massachusetts, 18; Michigan, 15; Minnesota, 12; Missouri, 18; Montana, 14; Nevada, 3; New Hampshire, 4; New Jersey, 14; New Mexico, 4; New York, 45; North Dakota, 5; Ohio, 24; Oregon, 5; Pennsylvania, 38; Rhode Island, 5; South Dakota, 5; Tennessee, 12; Utah, 4; Vermont, 4; Washington, 7; West Virginia, 8; Wisconsin, 13; Wyoming, 3. Total, 384.

Conceded to Democrats.

Alabama, 12; Arkansas, 9; Florida, 6; Georgia, 14; Louisiana, 10; Mississippi, 10; North Carolina, 12; South Carolina, 9; Texas, 20; Virginia, 12. Total, 114.

Listed as Doubtful.

Arizona, 3; California, 13; Oklahoma, 10; Nebraska, 8. Total, 34.

Mr. Hilles also said that the new progressive party would draw no more heavily from the republican party than from the democratic party.

DEMOCRATS IN NEW YORK CERTAIN TO CARRY STATE

"If the old prophecy, 'As goes New York so goes the nation,' holds true this year, the democrats are sure to be victorious in the presidential election this fall," said Milton J. Morrow, a former congressional representative of the Empire state, who is now on a business trip through the south, and who has been in Atlanta for two days.

"Woodrow Wilson is sure to carry New York state in November. The republicans up there—the stand-patters and the progressives—are more hopelessly divided than ever was a political party in this country."

"What effect will the 'bull moose' party have in the race?" he was asked.

"Roosevelt's personal popularity will poll him a good vote throughout the state, but it will not be sufficiently large to embarrass Governor Wilson. The great majority of intelligent voters throughout the east are eternally opposed to a third term for the president, and that alone would be enough to defeat him."

1,571,361 BALES COTTON GINNED IN ALABAMA

Montgomery, August 14.—(Special.) Figuers compiled by State Cotton Statistician E. M. Ragland show that for the year ending August 1, 1912, Alabama ginned 1,571,361 bales of cotton. These figures are contained in an incomplete report submitted Monday to Governor O'Neal.

According to the cotton statistician's report, Montgomery county leads in the number of bales ginned, the number being 56,351 bales, while Mobile county only ginned 410 bales.

There are 410 warehouses in the state, and the number of bales handled by these during the year was 1,279,833.

Mr. Ragland declared in his report that he had been unable to get some of the gins to make reports. It is believed that with all of the reports in, it will be shown that the state ginned in the neighborhood of 1,650,000 bales during the year.

No Race Suicide in Army.

San Francisco, August 14.—The transport Thomas, in yesterday from the Phillipines, was the most completely domesticated vessel of war that ever sailed through the Golden Gate. She brought seventy-two children of soldiers, among them the new-born son of Private G. A. Studer, Eighteenth coast artillery. The child was born on the ship. Fellow passengers made u pfor him a purse of $150.

Birdman Foulois Near Death.

Stratford, Conn., August 14.—Lieutenant Foulois, of the United States aviation corps, probably escaped serious injury or death, as if by miracle, this morning when his biplane, upon landing, hit a stone wall. The machine was smashed, but the army aviator was unhurt. Foulois had glided down 1,500 feet. The angle was so abrupt that something went wrong with the mechanism and the aviator was unable to direct a safe landing.

DARROW SPEAKS IN OWN DEFENSE

Declares He Is Being Prosecuted by Cruel Band of Cutthroats.

Los Angeles, Cal., August 14.—Clarence S. Darrow, regarded as one of the foremost champions of organised labor and defender in the courts of its leaders and principles, today pleaded his own case in his trial for alleged jury bribery.

At the outset he informed the jurors he would not appeal to their sympathies, and there was no note of supplication in his opening remarks. Instead, he denounced those who had, he said, plotted to destroy him.

Assistant District Attorney W. J. Ford, who sat near him, was made the object of many invectives; District Attorney Fredericks and Detective W. J. Burns were termed the tools of the steel trust, the National Erectors' association, designated as the arch conspirator against him because of his labors for the working man, was bitterly assailed as an enemy of society.

Collectively, all were called "as cruel a band of cut-throats as ever pursued a man since the world was born."

The spectacle of the accused attorney pleading for himself attracted hundreds to the courtroom. There was a rush when the doors opened, and men and women were roughly handled.

Darrow declared he was not being prosecuted for bribery, but because he had led in the battle for organized labor.

"I have committed one crime," he said, "which, like the crime against the Holy Ghost, cannot be forgiven. I have stood for the weak and the poor. I have stood for the men who toil."

The enemies of labor, he charged, had long sought to get him out of the way.

"I have stood against them," he said. "Now is their chance. They would stop my voice which, from the time I was a babe, my father and mother taught me never to raise except for justice and freedom and in the cause of the weak and the poor. They would stop it with the penitentiary.

"Oh, you wild, insane members of the Steel Trust and Erectors' association! Oh, you mad hounds of detectives who are willing to do your masters' will! Oh, you district attorneys! You know not what you do. Let me say that if you can succeed in placing me behind prison walls, there will breed a silence more ominous and eloquent than any word that my poor lips could ever frame."

Darrow will conclude his argument at the forenoon session tomorrow.

Miss Benton Drowned.

Mansfield, La., August 14.—Miss Mabel Benton, daughter of Rev. Bruce Benton, of Colfax, La., while on a fishing excursion at Rives-Willcox clubhouse, near Howard's Point, was drowned late yesterday afternoon. Miss Benton's father is now on a visit in North Carolina. The dead girl is a granddaughter of Representative A. M. Rives, of Desota parish.

DANIEL BROS. CO.

gained the floor for the bill. He urged that, in view of the fact that women are admitted to practice medicine and other professions, Georgia should open the doors and admit them to practice the law before the courts.

"But I fully realize that it is useless to appeal to this house in the humor it is in," he declared.

Representative Wimberly, of Bibb, spoke in favor of the bill, and Representative Payton, of Worth, declared that the legislature should pass the law. He declared that it was a plain business proposition, and one that should not be considered lightly by the house.

Representative Vinson, of Baldwin, moved the house to indefinitely postpone the bill, and on the vote taken 65 favored postponement and only 61 disapproved. The bill was lost.

"Medical Practice" Bill.

The house also killed the "medical practice" bill, the amendments included. The bill provided for the creation of a composite board of medical examiners to be composed of five regular practicing physicians, two homeopathics and two eclectics. The bill was opposed on the ground that the section providing for prorating the members was unfair, and was characterized as a bill to establish a medical trust.

Representative Nix, of Gwinnett, was the leader of the faction opposing the bill. He declared that the bill would not have the effect of raising the standard of efficiency of practitioners of medicine, but, on the contrary, it would only serve to keep from practicing students from schools of medical thought that have a standing in the profession of medicine.

The advocates of the bill urged its passage for the reason, as they put it, that it would increase the standard of efficiency. It was pointed out to the house that physicians of Georgia do not have the same qualifications as those of other states, and it was stated by some that some of the other states in the country did not recognize the licenses issued to Georgia physicians.

Lost by Failure to Get Majority.

The debate on the bill was brief. It was lost through failure to get a majority necessary to pass an amendment to the constitution.

The vote was 83 against 41.

The senate sent over to the house a message insisting that the amendments offered by the upper house to the insurance bill be concurred in by the house, and suggested that the house appoint a committee to confer with the senate committee.

Speaker Holder appointed Messrs. Gower, Burwell and DuBose.

The committees met during the session of the house. The senate committee receded from all amendments except one providing that life insurance companies now commissioned may continue to issue and sell special and board contracts until January 1, 1915.

The committee returned its report of the house to be acted on at the night session.

"Peaceful" Valley Accepted.

The house accepted the oil painting of "Peaceful Valley," at Tallulah Falls, from Mrs. Helen L. Longstreet, and a resolution was adopted thanking the donor of the gift.

The speaker named Messrs. Foster, of Floyd; Slade, of Muskogee, and Blackshear, of Richmond, a committee to select an artist for painting the portrait of General Clement A. Evans, which is to be hung in the corridors of the capitol.

The house resolution to require the treasurer to keep the special school fund separate from all other funds failed to reach the house despite the hard fight made by Representative Johnson, of Bartow, who twice asked unanimous consent to have the house agree to the calling of the resolution, but the house refused to steam roll the rules committee, and the resolution was lost.

The morning session of the house was marked by a clash between Representative Walter De Fore, of Bibb, and his colleague, Hon. Joe Hill Hall, when the bill to fix the venue of damage suits against railroads was being debated.

Clash Between Representatives.

A statement was made by Mr. De Fore that he knew Mr. Hall had been leading counsel for the Southern Express company and Western Union Telegraph company, in Bibb county, and attributed that to the position Mr. Hall took on the bill.

The bill amends the law and includes electric corporations. It permits the filing of damage suits in the county where the damage is done. Under the present law the suit for damages must be brought in the county where the offending corporation has its principal offices.

Representative Hall waxed warm over the imputation that he was chief or leading counsel for railroads, and sought to put himself clear before the house by claiming the floor to state a point of personal privilege. He did not deny that he had served the two corporations mentioned, but he denied that he was engaged by either at the present time.

"I do not represent the corporations now, nor was I ever special counsel," he said. "I did represent the Southern Express and the Western Union in certain suits, but I did so only in the general practice of law I am under no obligations to them, and am free at this moment to sue them if the occasion demanded."

Representative De Fore claimed the floor to respond. He declared that when he made the statement he was under the impression that Mr. Hall had been elevated to the position of chief counsel.

Hall a Damage Lawyer.

"But I want the house to listen to this," he said. "For years Mr. Hall was the leading damage suit lawyer before the Macon bar."

The house had some fun out of the incident when Representative Wimberly, another member of the Bibb delegation, claimed the floor on a point of personal privilege and "apologized for the other two members."

The bill was passed.

The house passed the bill to allow school districts to issue bonds for the erection of school houses in country districts. The vote was 93 against 30.

The house was thrown into another long drawn out debate on the bill to prohibit the owners, managers and superintendents of cemeteries from attempting to prescribe the kinds of caskets to be used in the burial of the dead.

The bill won support on the recommendation that it was a sanitary measure. It passed.

Health Board Act Amended.

The house passed the bill to amend the act creating the state board of health. The amendment increased the membership of the board from twelve to thirteen members to conform with the act creating an additional congressional district.

The senate fertilizer bill, recommended to the house by substitute, was also passed. The bill prescribes that manufacturers of fertilizers shall attach to each bag a tag showing the formula of the contents. The bill seeks to prevent adulteration of fertilizers with deleterious substances.

The bill to permit the inhabitants of Habersham county to kill gray foxes was passed.

The house concurred in the senate amendment to prevent fraud in the sale of stocks by requiring that a note given in payment for the purchase of such securities shall bear on its face the amount of the consideration.

The bill to require all promissory notes taken for the purchase of mining stocks to have expressed on its face the consideration or the kind of stock for which same was given was also passed.

Mileage Bill Passed.

The house passed the bill to compel railroads operating in Georgia to pull mileage on trains. The vote was 94 against 12. Immediately after the passage of the bill, a motion to have the bill immediately transferred to the governor for signature was sustained.

STEVE JOHNSTON GOES TO FRATERNAL CONGRESS

Former Councilman Steve R. Johnston, candidate for mayor, will leave the city today for Mackinac island to attend a meeting of the National Fraternal congress, composed of representatives of all fraternal organizations in the United States and Canada. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Johnston. They will be gone about two weeks.

"I want to say, before I go," remarked Mr. Johnston, "with reference to the statement from Alderman John S. Candler, regarding conditions in Atlanta, that I see no cause for any alarm. I have heard the same cry for the last five years. What Atlanta really needs in the proper administration of the city's affairs is more business and less politics. When I return I shall probably have more to say about it."

FOUR AULT BILLS PASSED IN SENATE

Number of Inspectors Limited and Salaries Prescribed.

Four of the most important of the Ault bills introduced as the result of the investigation of the agricultural department by the Ault committee were passed by the senate on Wednesday.

The first of these bills limits the number of general inspectors to six, at a salary of $1,200 per year, and prescribes the maximum number of short-term inspectors to forty, to be paid at the rate of $83 per month. These inspectors will be required to devote their entire time to the state while employed.

The second bill provides that the fertilizer tax be paid to the state treasurer immediately upon receipt, and the commissioner shall be required to draw warrants on this fund for the expenses of the department. Heretofore the commissioner has paid the expenses of his department from the fees collected and subsequently turned the balance over to the treasurer.

Inspection of Gasoline.

The next bill provides for the inspection of gasoline, benzine and naphtha at the same rate at which kerosene is inspected and the inspectors shall receive the same remuneration. The last of the measures strikes out the names of those cities where it is now obligatory that inspectors shall be appointed and leaves the matter of appointees in the hands of the commissioner to act at his own discretion. It also reduces the compensation of oil inspectors from an average of $30 per car to $10 per car and provides for a limit in inspectors' salaries of $100 per month.

The Harris substitute fertilizer bill, preventing the placing of fillers in fertilizers unless so specified on the sack, was amended so that this specification could be placed on the tag if desired.

After a short discussion, the bill providing for the appointment of an official cotton weigher in each cotton growing county was passed with slight opposition.

No Lieutenant Governor.

The senate passed the house bill creating the office of lieutenant governor, who shall act as president of the senate, but the bill will not become a law at this session of the legislature, since several companion bills, necessary to the measure, have not been passed.

The appropriation bills came up for passage Wednesday morning and were both passed with slight changes. The general deficiency appropriation bill was amended so as to give an additional $10,000 to the University of Georgia, to cut the State Normal school appropriation from $12,00 to $5,000 and to strike the section setting aside $1,000 for the purpose of buying a new set of weights and measures.

Senator Bush introduced the amendment to cut the appropriation of the Normal school, and stated that he did so at the request of the officials of the school. All other changes in the bill were slight, and amounted to little.

The special appropriation bill was passed with little opposition, and gives $7,500 to the First District Agricultural school, $6,000 to the Third District school, $10,000 to the Georgia School for the Deaf and $10,000 for the eradication of the tick in this state.

Bills Are Passed.

The following bills were passed:

House bill to amend the charter of Dallas.

House bill to incorporate the town of Colquitt.

House bill to incorporate the town of Constitution, DeKalb and Fulton counties.

House bill to incorporate the town of Modoc, Emanuel county.

House bill to amend an act creating a board of commissioners for Ware county.

House bill to create a board of commissioners of roads and revenues for DeKalb county.

House bill to amend the charter of Newnan.

House bill to incorporate the town of Lakeview, DeKalb county.

House bill to amend the charter of Newnan.

House bill to establish the city of Wrightsville, Johnson county.

House bill to amend the charter of Butler, Taylor county.

House bill to create the town of Mount Zion, Carroll county.

SENATE CONFIRMS EDUCATION BOARD

In executive session Wednesday afternoon, the senate expressed its approval of the Smith appointments to the state board of education, no Brown appointees being before the body for confirmation.

The Smith appointees were T. J. Woofter, Jere M. Pound, J. C. Langston and Judge T. G. Lawson, deceased. Walter Steel was the successor of Judge Lawson, and will remain in office.

The rules committee was sustained by the senate, and the Hamilton resolution was lost, at the same time blocking the bill from coming up for passage.

LITTLE & GREEN FIRM DISSOLVES PARTNERSHIP

Announcement is made of the dissolution of the real estate firm of Little & Green, Mr. Little withdrawing, while Mr. Green will continue the business under the firm name, The L. C. Green company, with offices in the Third National bank building.

Mr. Little withdraws to return to his former position in the Boys' high school, and in doing so commends the L. C. Green company to its patrons and the public generally. Mr. Green has conducted a successful real estate business in Atlanta for several years and is well known and popular in Atlanta business circles.

NEW YORK AUTO PARTY LEAVES TODAY FOR EAST

Making Atlanta the southern terminus of a long auto trip through the south, a party of New Yorkers, composed of Dr. F. M. Dearborn and wife, John C. Gulick and their chauffeur, leave this morning for the east.

The party spent less than twelve hours in Atlanta, being several days behind their intended schedule because of poor road conditions found in Tennessee and Kentucky.

The trip south was made by way of western New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee. Returning they will go through North and South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey. The trip will include every state in the eastern portion of the United States except West Virginia and the New England states.

SPEAKER PRO TEM. REMEMBERED

Representative Converse presenting Representative Vinson, the speaker pro tem. of the house, with a beautiful scarf pin, in appreciation of his services during the 1911-12 session of the general assembly.

HOUSE IN A GENEROUS MOOD; MANY PRESENTATIONS MADE

Presentations to the officials and attaches of the house and to the members of the press who have reported the legislative proceedings were made last night during the closing hours of the session.

Under the head of "special business" the presentations were taken up shortly after 8 o'clock, before the house became entangled in the numerous bills which were acted upon between that hour and adjournment.

Speaker Holder was presented with a dozen beautiful bouillon cups. The presentation was made by Representative Brown and an ovation was given the speaker. Mr. Holder promptly sent the gift to Mrs. Holder, who was seated at the rear of the hall.

Clerk Boifeuillet and Enrolling Clerks Moore, McClatchey and Gresham were presented scarf pins by Representative Turnipseed.

Speaker Pro Tem. Vinson was presented with a stick pin.

Representative Hardeman, chairman of the rules committee, was presented a large silver pitcher by Representative Jones.

Mrs. Bass, the postmistress, was presented a beautiful pin. Representative Nisbet made the speech of presentation.

Messrs. Nevin, Meade, Perkinson and Reese, all representatives of local or out-of-town newspapers, were each presented a handsome tie clasp. Representative Joe Hill Hall made the speech and complimented the reporters upon the fairness with which they had written the different stories of the session.

All of the doorkeepers and messengers were presented with cuff buttons.

LAKEWOOD PARK AMENDMENT AUTHORIZES ITS TRANSFER

An important amendment to the charter of Atlanta, which the legislature has approved, is that which gives the city the right to transfer the Lakewood park property to a private corporation in order that the corporation can make improvements on the property by the erection of buildings to be used for fairs and expositions and by grading the grounds.

This amendment was sanctioned by council because of a proposition to hold a big exposition at Lakewood within two or three years.

Under the amendment the company taking over the property must agree to improve the property with buildings, roadways and drives, and the amount to be expended for this work shall not be less than one and four-tenths times the total bond issue, which shall not exceed $500,000. All expenditures must be approved by the mayor and general council.

The capital stock of the company which takes over the property must not be less than $250,000. The company will be authorized to co-operate with the federal and county authorities and with persons making donations.

When the grounds have been improved the city will have the right to buy back the property with all improvements, subject to the bond issue and other charges by way of improvements.

The company securing the property will be given the right to hold fairs and expositions and to lease the property to other persons.

The details of the transfer will be left to the mayor and council.

The purpose of the amendment is to have the Lakewood property improved for exposition purposes, while the city still retains the right to take back the property by paying only what the purchasing company has expended.

SILVER LOVING CUP GIVEN MR. SLATON

The state senate expressed their appreciation of the loyal services of Hon. John M. Slaton, president of the senate, the last night of the session, by presenting him with a handsome silver loving cup, bearing the name of every senator who has served in the legislature during the last session.

The speech of presentation was delivered by Senator W. T. Roberts, of the thirty-sixth district, who lauded President Slaton for his services during the session. It was evident that he expressed the sentiments of the entire body, from the tremendous amount of applause that followed.

President Slaton responded in a few well-chosen words, expressing his thanks for the senate's token of esteem, and his feeling of warm personal friendship for each senator.

Many Cats Menace Health.

Chicago, August 14.—Chicago contains more cats than human beings, according to Hugo Krause, secretary of the Anti-Cruelty society. He places the number of howling cats in the city at 1,000,000, and the number enjoying the comforts of a home, he believes, will reach $2,000,000. He regards the vagrant cat as a menace to the city's health.

SILVER HAND BAG GIVEN TO MRS. LOUISE MARSH

A beautiful silver hand bag was presented to Mrs. Louise Bigby Marsh, who has gained the title of "official" stenographer of the senate of Georgia through her long and efficient service to the members of the senate, by the senate of Georgia last night.

The speech of presentation was made by Senator J. H. Felker, of the twenty-seventh district, in behalf of the senators, and the response was made in behalf of Mrs. Marsh by Hon. John M. Slaton, president of the senate.

Mrs. Marsh, through her charming and magnetic personality, as well as through the merit of her work, has won the admiration and respect, as well as the clerical work, of every senator.

GEORGIA-ALABAMA FAIR TO ORGANIZE FORMALLY

Columbus, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The Georgia-Alabama Fair association will formally organize next week for the purpose not only of holding a fair in Columbus this fall, but of providing such an entertainment as a regular yearly feature.

Leading business men of the city are the stockholders in the association. It has been several years since a fair was held in Columbus. It is suggested that a big aviation meet be made a feature this fall.

INSURANCE BILL PASSED AT NIGHT

House Adopts Report of the Conference Committee.

When the house reconvened at 8 o'clock the report of the committee appointed to confer with the senate committee on the amendments to the insurance bill was submitted.

The house adopted the amendment and concurred in the senate concessions.

Representative Anderson, of Chatham, raised the point that the house should not take any action until officially informed by the senate of its action on the bill.

The speaker ruled that it was within the province of the house to adopt the committee report of the conference.

Representative Garver moved that the house adopt the report and the house sustained the motion.

Appropriation Bill.

The appropriation bill amended by the senate was called from the calendar by Chairman McElreath.

The house disagreed to the amendment to refund $20 to W. F. Hall, of Cedartown, overpaid taxes.

The amendment to give $5,000 for the support and maintenance of the normal school at Athens for each of the years 1912 and 1913, said sum to be in addition to the general appropriation of 1911, was adopted.

The item of $1,000 for weights and measures for the department of agriculture was stricken from the bill.

The house adopted the following amendments:

To appropriate $33.30 to the White Rock Water company and $62.50 for the Benscot Water company for water supplied both houses.

To appropriate $75 to John T. Boifeuillet, clerk of the house, and Charles Northen, secretary of the senate, for expenditures by them for printing a list of legislation pending from the 1911 session.

The amendment to authorize an appropriation to pay the pages in the senate for service was fought by Representatives Vinson and Hall on the ground that it gives Flynn Hargett, the messenger of the senate, the power to appoint pages.

The section amending the act does not specify the amount to be appropriated.

Fight Over Pages Begins.

Representative Hall opposed the amendment on the ground that it is contrary to the act passed last session.

The amendment was lost, the house refusing to concur in the amendment.

The house concurred in the senate amendment prescribing certain qualifications for women who serve as notaries public.

The following senate amendments were submitted to the house for concurrence:

To authorize the transfer of surplus funds from fertilizer inspection to the agriculture schools. Adopted.

To provide for payment of oil inspection fees at the time of inspection. Adopted.

Railroad Is Sold.

Nasville, Tenn., August 14.—In conformity with an order of the federal court, the Overton County railroad, 19 miles long, a line running from Algood to Livingston, Tenn., was sold at the latter place yesterday to satisfy a judgment of $285,000. Thomas A. Fitzsimmons, of Chicago, supposed to represent bondholders, was the purchaser, the price being $50,000.

A GOOD PARCELS POST BEGINNING.

The parcels post measure, now certain to become a law, is a splendid beginning in the direction of a postal reform which the people have long demanded, and in which, as is too frequently the case, this country lags at the heels of the progress procession.

But parcels post is in sight at last and, properly, in universal form rather than the recently proposed tentative subterfuge which would have confined it wholly to rural routes, and then to a very restricted degree.

Under the law about to pass the final stage of legislation, a package not exceeding eleven pounds in weight may be sent from any point in the United States to any other point, at a rate varying according to weight and distance. Such a package may start from a point on one rural route 25 miles from a postoffice and be delivered upon another route even 2,000 miles distant and just as far in the country; a country home in South Carolina may send a parcel to a country home in Oregon, or vice versa.

Thus, to all intents and purposes, the Bourne plan provides a universal and beneficent parcels post system, though it has its defects, as its author and its leading advocates realize and admit. Chief objections to it are, in some instances, too high charges for service rendered and the fact that the zone system, through which the charges increase with distance, is awkward and cumbersome. Other criticisms apply largely to points which affect postoffice administration rather than the public, and these defects will have to be met and cured as they are tested out.

But these criticisms aside, The Constitution, having contended insistently for years for the establishment of an effective and nation-wide system of parcels post, congratulates congress upon the progress made.

If not yet a whole loaf, it is a good substantial half and with leaven enough in it to guarantee that it will ultimately serve the purpose for which it is intended—in the meantime affording immediate relief and furnishing facilities heretofore denied the public.

Congress has, in fact, done all that might have been expected of it in the first or preliminary enactment.

No nation that has ever established the parcels post system has abandoned it; on the contrary the rule has been to improve and broaden the service, making it more liberal.

With a good beginning, therefore, the people of the United States may look forward ultimately to a system, perfected through experience, that will render them the service they demand and to which they are entitled.

GOOD ADVICE FROM A WISE ADVISER.

Asa G. Candler never gave his fellow citizens of Atlanta better advice than when he warns them against permitting themselves to be drawn into sectional quarrels in matters pertaining to the development of the city.

He emphasizes the fact that Atlanta has grown to be a great city by the united efforts of its people without regard to sectional lines.

The Atlanta "get-together" spirit is proverbial the country over, and the man, or the set of men, who would change this keynote of the city's progress would assume a fearful responsibility.

Every Atlantan is interested in the development of every part of the city. The man who lives on the north side is just as much interested in the progress and development of the south side as the man who lives on the south side is in the growth of every other section of the city. For a member of council to say that he is opposed to something because it affects the "other side" of the city is to both deny and defy the vital force that has made Atlanta what it is.

Asa G. Candler has the reputation of being a very wise man, but no sage ever gave better advice than he gives when he warns Atlantans against sectional agitation.

KILL FLIES---OR PEOPLE?

A preacher in Denver, Colorado, is quoted to the effect that it is a crime to kill flies, his idea being that all forms of life have as much right to existence as has humanity itself.

The life of a fly against the life of a man, a woman, a child!

Our friend is as amusing as those of his school of thought who cry out against the slight pain given horses who have outworn all other uses, by having them serve as a medium for the securing of anti-diphtheretic serum. The same tribe complains because rabbits or guinea pigs are inoculated with the Pasteur treatment that men, women and children may be saved.

But the fly is everywhere being "swatted" with due vigor, regardless of his life, liberty and the right to pursue happiness.

This sort of "humanitarian" crusade is by no means new. Jenner, when he first discovered the way to stamp out smallpox, brought down on his head a swarm of merciless critics. Had not he, and his courageous followers, persisted, the world today would still be writhing in the throes of smallpox. And had Gorgas in Havana and Panama, and Rupert Blue in San Francisco, listened to the maudlin cries to spare the yellow fever mosquito and the plague-rat, this country would today be in a sad way so far as sanitation and health go.

SWAT THIS WORM!

The federal department of agriculture reports that during the month of July alone crops in the south sustained a total damage of $8,000,000 traceable to the ravages of the army worm. With virtually two months of the farming season yet to run, the toll of the pest must inevitably assume formidable proportions.

So concerned have southern farmers been over the present or threatened menace of the more spectacular boll-weevil, that they have in a way minimized the possibilities for mischief hidden in the army worm and, as a matter of fact, every other foe to crops of any nature whatever. The army worm does not work the immediate and wholesale harm characterizing the operations of the boll-weevil, but its depredations are none the less sure, unless checked in due time.

Fortunately, the army worm can be combated much more effectually than the boll-weevil. Both the federal and state governments, or rather their respective entomological departments, will gladly furnish to farmers applying the formulas that will either put the pest to rout or minimize its sinister inroads. Congress has only recently appropriated a moderately effectual sum for the express purpose of handling the problem, and State Entomologist Lee Worsham, of Georgia, has been especially active on the firing line in this state.

If during the next two months an aggressive and intelligent campaign is waged against the worm, there is reason to believe that next year will witness its almost complete annihilation. The money required for remedial measures is small beside the tax that will otherwise be inexorably laid upon every crop this insect has picked out for its prey.

"Just From Georgia"

Mr. Bill, of Billville.

I.

No more upon the Great White Way
our legislators roam:
Our "Bill" has passed a bill or two,
and now our "Bill" comes home.
He said some oratory in that Atlanta town,
But didn't raise the roof a bit, nor make the house come down.

II.

He served his time right faithful, an'
they say that every day
They found him with the regulars who stand to draw their pay;
'Twas like a picnic to him—best honey in the comb;
But the agony is ended an' our "Bill" is coming home!

A Warning Note From Home.

The following letter was received by a Billville representative recently:

"I hear tell that the legislatur' is about to adjourn from its vacation an' come home, an' bein' a friend o' your'n I write to warn you not to git off at the depot, but to hop from the train when she slows up at the crossin', an' go home through the woods; an' it'll be all the better fer you if the train hits town in the night; fer your friends an' feller citizens ain't pleased with the bills you passed, nor with them you didn't pass, an' there's 'bout as much hope for you as there'd be for a rabbit in the snow, with the hounds ten yards behind him!"

When Good Luck Comes.

I.

When Good Luck comes and smiles at you
Just like your sweetheart used to do,
Then you have strength for pullin'
through—
You get there!

II.

The sky has then a brighter blue,
The future's rosy to your view,
And all the world seems made brand-new,—
You get there!

III.

Bright streams the sunlight on the way,
And all the glad world smiles "Good Day!"
You're in the push—you're stackin' hay,—

The Clubs They Dread.

"Most of the literary clubs in Georgia are of stout, well-seasoned hickory," says The Billville Banner, "and the one we keep on hand is placed where every author can see it as he enters with his manuscript. The other day an author who has been worrying us considerable of late, started to read a story to us, but when he detected us in the act of reaching for our literary club he went through the window, taking the sash with him—a thing we very much regretted, as we had just had three new panes of glass put in."

NEW POWER COMPANY GETS RIGHTS ON COOSA

Rome, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The agitation of council over signing a new lighting contract with the Rome Railway and Power company was further complicated last night, when Alderman Copeland, fighting the proposed new contract, announced that power rights at the government lock and dam 8 miles below here, on the Coosa, had been purchased and that a local company contemplated utilizing the fall there and entering the field in north Georgia.

The amount of their capitalization and the scope of their proposed business was not stated, but it was intimated that it would be of sufficient magnitude to compete successfully with the three large companies with lines here now, viz, the East Tennessee company, the Georgia Power company and the Rome Railway and Light company. This will give Rome four large power and light companies, three of them being hydraulic.

General Leinster Dead.

Wilmington, N. C., August 14.—Adjutant General Roy L. Leinster, of North Carolina, died here today. General Leinster is the second head of the North Carolina national guard to die during the present administration, General J. F. Armfield having passed away in November, 1910.

Letters From People

Candidate Perry's Expenses.

Editor Constitution: I wish to say with regard to my campaign expenses: I did not think it proper to come before the people for so important an office without a full presentation of my views on all public issues. The people expect this, and it is due them. But this occupied a full page in a number of papers and cost from about $150 to $250 and over for each paper. This made the expense high. Senator Bacon has not seen fit to state his positions or discuss these questions, hence he had no expense of this kind.

Gossip at the Capitol

Contract Labor Law.

An opinion given by the supreme court yesterday in response to a request from the state court of appeals upholds the Georgia contract labor law as valid.

Under this law it is made a misdemeanor for a laborer to obtain advances of money and supplies under promise to do work, and then refuse to perform his part of the contract. Decisions upon the law, however, require that the intent to defraud must be clearly shown before a conviction can be had, and this is usually difficult to prove.

The court of appeals has before it the case of Tim Wilson, a Lee county negro, charged with a violation of this law, in that he obtained supplies and then refused to work. It is charged he secured the advances with intent to defraud.

Replying to the court of appeals, the supreme court, in an opinion prepared by Justice Atkinson, holds that the Georgia contract labor law is valid. The opinion compares it to the Alabama law along similar lines, which was recently declared unconstitutional by the federal court. The main point of difference is that the Alabama law makes refusal to do the promised work prima facie evidence of intent to defraud, while the Georgia law does not, the latter requiring clear proof of the fraudulent intent.

Price Is Confident.

J. D. Price, of Oconee, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, who has been in Atlanta for a couple of days looking over the field, left the city Wednesday for Dublin, where he will make a speech today in the interest of his candidacy.

"I am going down to Dublin by special invitation," Mr. Price said, "and, if possible, I will also visit Johnson county before returning. Then I expect to wind up the campaign with a trip to north Georgia.

"I have got the fight whipped," Mr. Price declared. "I am the only practical farmer in the race, and I believe the people want a practical farmer as the law directs. I have had encouragement from the farmers all over the state, and I feel confident as to the result."

As to Peddlers.

Under a decision of the supreme court rendered Wednesday, a peddler who attempts to operate under a free license granted to a confederate veteran cannot escape the liability for license.

The case in question was that of J. E. Whidden, of Tattnall county, who peddled under a license granted to a confederate veteran of that county. The supreme court says that Whidden, who actually "hawked the goods," is the real peddler, and that the law exempting confederate veterans from paying the licenses does not apply to him.

Tribute to Chaplain.

Strong tribute was paid by the state senate Wednesday to its blind chaplain, Rev. J. W. G. Watkins, in a resolution offered by Senator Copelan, and unanimously adopted. The resolution follows:

"Whereas the Rev. J. W. G. Watkins has been chaplain of the senate of Georgia, continuously, for a period of nineteen years, during which long term of service he has, by his earnest piety and Christian deportment, endeared himself to the members of the Georgia senate, who have been intimately associated with him for this long period, therefore be it

"Resolved, That the senate of Georgia heartily commends its present chaplain for his high Christian character, and his deep and earnest piety, and expresses the hope that he may continuously hold the office of chaplain of the senate as long as he may desire."

Opens Headquarters.

J. J. Brown, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, has opened headquarters at 12½ West Alabama street, over the American National Bank building. Mr. Brown has several stenographers at work getting out mail, and his headquarters are in charge of his son, P. Polk Brown.

MADE MONEY PREYING UPON "BLIND TIGERS"

Athens, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Charlie Huff, a witness in a blind tiger case in the mayor's court, went to the county jail today on a charge of blackmail. In the trial of Will Heard for "tigering," it developed that the witness against him, Huff, was in the habit of buying liquor from tigers and then threatening to "snitch" on them unless they came across with a fictitious amount he falsely represented the city detectives would pay him for "turning them up."

It is said that he plied the traffic in silence so successfully that he was many dollars richer for the practice. The specific instance brought to light was that of "Coarse" Brumby, a negro man, gray and grizzled. He had bought whisky from the old negro and then told him that the detectives would give him $50 to report him. He had stated that on account of the extreme age and infirmity of the ancient darky he would keep the matter to himself for $25. The old negro played the cue up and jewed the would-be reporter down. The matter was compromised for a ten-dollar bill.

COMMITTEE TO REPORT ON RECENT EXPOSITION

The chamber of commerce committee which had in charge the recent Atlanta Manufacturers' exposition will meet today at noon to "take stock" of the big show and formulate a report to be made to the executive committee of the chamber Friday at noon. The exposition paid every outstanding indebtedness and is considered the most successful affair of its kind ever held in the city. A resolution favoring another show next year will undoubtedly be passed.

SLATON PREDICTIONS COME FROM MANY GEORGIA COUNTIES

Brief predictions from a few of the hundreds of letters received at John M. Slaton's headquarters, with regard to the situation in the race for governor throughout the state, have been given out.

Throughout them all the most frequent sentiment expressed is, "I have no reason to change my previous estimate that you will carry this county by a large vote."

Here are a few of these extracts indicative of the situation:

H. M. Cheek, Hart county merchant: "There is scarcely any doubt that Mr. Slaton will take my section my storm."

J. J. Thomasson, Carroll county: "I hold to my former estimate; you will carry this county by a large vote."

G. A. Whitaker, Lowndes county: "There is no doubt about your carrying this county by a large vote."

A. L. Horton, Greene county: "I confidently predict that you will carry Greene by a large vote."

R. H. Tatum, Walker county: "There is no opposition to you here."

H. O. Williford, Jackson county: "You will carry Jackson by a good majority."

Rush Burton, Franklin county: "You will carry this county by a majority of 300 to 500."

R. L. Murphy, Jackson county: "Jackson county's vote is yours."

G. M. McElreath, Cobb county: "Your strength remains unaffected here; you will carry Cobb county."

C. P. Turner, Cobb county: "Everything is all right here."

W. F. Mathews, Bartow county: "Many strong Smith supporters here are predicting that you will easily carry Bartow."

S. T. Cantrell, Gordon county: "This county is safe for you."

E. H. Callaway, Richmond county: "Everything here indicates that you are the overwhelming favorite."

George E. Simpson, Lowndes county: "Everything indicates that this county is solid for you."

Howell Hollis, Muscogee county: "There will be no change in this section. You will carry this county practically unanimously."

S. J. Harben, Dawson county: "I find no change here. You will get this county."

R. J. Miller, Augusta: "I travel seven counties, Richmond, Columbia, McDuffie, Wilkes, Lincoln, Jefferson and Glascock, and everywhere I go I find you strongly in the lead."

James Hill, merchant and farmer, of Lyerly: "Mr. Slaton will carry Walker county by a splendid majority."

F. L. Dyar, of Calhoun: "The county of Gordon will give Slaton a majority that he will be proud of."

T. J. Overby, merchant and farmer and former ordinary of Murray county: "There is no doubt but that Jack Slaton will carry my county by a handsome majority."

Ex-Senator Dick Dobbs, of Marietta: "Cobb county knows and loves Jack Slaton, and will roll up a big majority for him."

The foregoing are but a few of the hundreds of replies along the same line that might be given but for lack of space.

From Legislators.

Here are some additional statements from members of the legislature who are supporting Mr. Slaton:

Representative H. J. Strickland, of Pierce: "My county is almost solidly in the Slaton column."

Senator W. D. Crawford, of the twenty-fourth: "You can safely count on a handsome majority for Jack Slaton in Marion."

Representative Dave McKee, of Dawson: "Jack Slaton will carry my county by a safe majority."

Representative W. T. Greene, of Effingham: "I am supporting Slaton because of confidence in his ability and fairness."

Senator E. A. Copelan, of the nineteenth: "Jack Slaton will make a wise, faithful and fearless governor. I am for him and so is Greene county."

Senator J. W. Mayson, of DeKalb: "I have known John M. Slaton during the whole of his official life, and I feel that he is just the man we need right now for governor."

"HELLO GIRLS" SELECT BOOKS FOR EXCHANGE LIBRARIES

In accordance with its policy of promoting the general welfare of its many employees, the Southern Bell Telephone company last week installed in each of its two city exchange buildings a branch Carnegie library for the use of the "hello girls." The books were immediately put into circulation among the operators, nearly one half of the volumes in the libraries having already been subscribed for.

The books in the library were selected by the girls themselves, who made up a list of their literary tastes. This list was turned over to the Carnegie library and three hundred new volumes ordered. The telephone exchange library is now a regular branch library. After several months the books now in circulation will be replenished by other books from the library, thus keeping the shelves filled with fresh and timely literature. One hundred and fifty girls have signed cards as members of the library.

The matrons of the telephone offices whose business it is to look out for the comfort of the young women, are in charge of the libraries. They are kept hard at work filling the constant demands of the operators for books.

The library is adapted in every way to suit the girls. The books are those which appeal to young women; the rooms are comfortable and cool; the girls are encouraged to borrow books. The installment of this new feature of the telephone company is a forward step in line with its expressed purpose to give proper comfort and moral welfare to the employees during working hours and during periods of recreation.

So hereafter, if you take up that blamed receiver and "central" doesn't answer, don't cuss! For central is not asleep—she is enveloped in the entrancing plots and paragraphs of Robert W. Chambers, devouring the hair-raising escapades of some "best-seller" hero.

FLIMFLAMMED OUT OF $2.50, TAX COLLECTOR RUMINATES

While Mayor Winn, Alderman Candler et al. are discussing how the city's many millions are going, City Tax Collector E. E. Williams is ruminating over how he got flimflammed out of $2.50. It is not so great a question as the city's millions which is agitating patriotic bosoms, but the city tax collector says he is not so rich as to be tossing two-fifties out the window just to see them fly.

Here is the financial story telling how the tax collector got buncoed:

One day there went to his office a young man who said he desired to take the examination required for operators of motion pictures. He was asked to deposit $5, as the city charges that amount and pays out $2.50 to an expert who does the examining. The young man, who gave the name of W. Mark Smith, handed over a check for $5 on the National bank at Dublin, Ga. That is the first chapter.

The second chapter is: The young man failed to pass and when he found he had been turned down and would not be allowed to operate in a motion picture theater he had the check on the Dublin bank held up.

The tax collector was out $5 and half that amount he had paid to the expert. So he petitioned the tax committee of council to refund him the whole amount. The committee met Wednesday afternoon and decided that the tax collector was entitled to only the $2.50 which he had paid the expert. It held that he took the $5 check at his own risk.

"We must rise to remark," said Alderman Nutting, chairman of the committee, "that W. Mark Smith is a smart young man all right."

Now comes the finale, which may be interesting to quite a number of people: The ruling of the tax committee may result in a change in the way of doing business in the tax collector's office, for he takes in a large number of checks almost daily, and the smart young man's trick may cause him to hereafter handle with more discrimination bank paper which is passed over his counter.

$3,000,000 BABY IS BORN TO WIDOW OF JOHN J. ASTOR

New York, August 14.—Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, survivor of the Titanic disaster, in which her husband, Colonel John Jacob Astor, lost his life, gave birth to a son at 8:15 o'clock this morning.

The new arrival has been named John Jacob Astor after its father.

The baby becomes a direct heir to $3,000,000 of the Astor fortune.

News of the arrival of the Astor baby was made known in a bulletin issued by Dr. Edwin B. Craigin, the attending physician. The bulletin read:

"Mrs. Astor has a son, born at 8:15 o'clock. His name is John Jacob Astor Mother and son are in good condition."

The fact that his father proved himself a hero in the Titanic disaster and that the wife from whom he then parted was his bride of only a few months, coupled with the large fortune which was provided for a posthumous child, have lent unusual interest to the arrival of the youngest Astor.

The new Astor baby will be one of the few children ever born with a fortune as large as $3,000,000 in its own right.

Colonel Astor had provided that whether the child was a boy or girl, it should receive $3,000,000. Even if the stork had brought more than one child, Colonel Astor's will covered that contingency, because it read as follows:

"I bequeath such number of separate sums of $3,000,000 each as shall be equal to the number of my children who shall survive me other than my son, William Vincent Astor, and my daughter, Ava Muriel Astor." The latter children are by Colonel Astor's first wife, Mrs. Ava Willing Astor.

SAYS PEOPLE OF ROME ARE SOLD TAINTED MEAT

Rome, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Charging that Rome received only those meats that Atlanta and Chattanooga food inspectors had refused to permit on sale in their cities, W. H. Coker succeeded last night in having created by council the office of meat inspector, in connection with sanitary inspector. Mr. Coker made direct charges of "embalmed beef" and meats having been treated with acid process so as to remove decay from the surface. The charges created a mild sensation.

Reducing Station Demanded.

Rome, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Claiming that their wires carry a voltage of 66,000, and that they endanger life and limb, the city council of Rome has passed a resolution requiring the East Tennessee Power company to build a reducing station on the outskirts of the city before bringing its current into the local market. This step was taken after an investigation lasting several months, and on the report made by Special Engineer Cook. The mandate is final, and provisions of the resolutions will be complied with by the power company within thirty days.

FLOOD COMMISSION MEETS IN AUGUSTA

Augusta, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) An important meeting of the flood commission was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Chairman F. B. Pope. The detailed report of the chief engineer was read and approved, and R. Roy Goodwin was employed to purchase the right-of-way that will be necessary.

The executive committee of five will advertise for bids on work that will be done this year, and will look after the purchase of the right-of-way and other work in connection with the levee that will be placed along the river front for the protection of the city. The executive committee will be kept quite busy during the next few weeks.

GOVERNOR NAMES JUDGE OF BLACKSHEAR COURT

R. G. Mitchell was Wednesday appointed judge and S. F. Memory solicitor of the newly-created city court of Blackshear, Ga. The appointments were at once confirmed when sent to the senate.

DR. TODD LEAVES FOR AN OPERATION

Will Go Under the Knife in Baltimore Tomorrow—Humphrey Doing Splendidly.

Dr. J. S. Todd left Atlanta yesterday at noon for Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, where he will be operated upon by Dr. Bloodgood. He is accompanied by his son, Mr. Henry W. Todd.

For several days past Dr. Todd has been quite unwell and after consultation his physicians, Drs. H. F. Harris and F. W. McRae, thought it best for him to go on to Baltimore immediately for an operation. Acting upon their advice, he departed yesterday and the operation will probably be performed tomorrow in Baltimore.

No physician in Atlanta has more friends than Dr. Todd, the news of whose illness will be received with general regret.

HUMPHREY DOING WELL; OPERATED ON YESTERDAY

A telegram received in Atlanta yesterday from Mrs. W. G. Humphrey, the wife of Councilman W. G. Humphrey, of the eighth ward, announces that the operation for which he had gone to the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, was performed satisfactorily, and that Mr. Humphrey is doing splendidly.

This news will be received with great pleasure by Mr. Humphrey's many friends not only in Atlanta, but throughout Georgia. As a member of the Robinson-Humphrey-Wardlaw company, he is well known throughout the south. He has been indisposed for some time, but it is thought that he will soon be entirely himself again as the result of the operation performed yesterday.

F. L. Stedeman, of Muse's, Goes With Parks-Chambers-Hardwick Company.

Ten years of service tells a splendid business story. 'Tis particularly splendid when the man of business is F. L. Stedeman and the place of service and experience is the Geo. Muse Clothing Co.

After August 15 Mr. Stedeman will be associated with the Parks-Chambers-Hardwick Company. Mr. Stedeman has been a member of the clothing staff at Muse's for ten years, and in that time has made many friends who will regret the absence of his familiar face from his accustomed place.

Mr. Stedeman's clothing ability is well established, likewise his personality. The "Muse boys" regret to give him up and have expressed their appreciation of their pleasant associate and friend in the gift of a handsome watch, which was presented to Mr. Stedeman Wednesday evening, the eve of his departure.

15 CONTRACTORS BID FOR AUGUSTA HOSPITAL

Augusta, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) Only fifteen bids will be considered by the special hospitals committee of the city council for the new city hospitals. The bids will be opened by the committee Monday, August 26, at 4 o'clock. The architect estimates that the building will cost $240,000.

The plans call for five connected buildings, all in one system of hospital. The buildings will be so arranged that the different branches of the work can be looked after with the least possible trouble.

The following is a list of the contractors who have been permitted to offer bids on the new hospitals: T. O. Brown & Son, McKinzie Construction company, H. C. Morrison and H. C. Van Ormer & Son, of Augusta; Moise DeLeon, Mackle-Crawford Construction company and the Industrial Engineering company, of Atlanta; the Charles McCaul company and M. P. Wells, Philadelphia; Industrial Construction company, Saginaw, Mich.; Wise Granite company, Richmond, Va.; King Lumber company, Charlottesville, Va.; James Alexander Construction company, Memphis, Tenn.; Empire Construction company, Douglas, Ga., and O. W. Rosenthal & Co., Chicago, Ill.

The plans for the buildings have been prepared by G. L. Preacher, a local architect, assisted by D. L. Sturm, of Chicago. The plans cover fifty-four sheets of blue print paper and the specifications are contained in 304 pages closely written.

FINE FISHING WEATHER, SAYS THE FORECASTER

Izack Walton himself never wished for more ideal fishing weather than the weather man promises for the next few days. Clear and not too warm is his prediction.

A number of parties are leaving for week-end trips this week, and some of them for a more extended time. The Georgia coast is popular as well as are both the sea and gulf coasts of Florida, while others prefer the trout streams of the Carolina mountains.

POLLING PLACES NEXT WEDNESDAY

No "Single-Shotting" Will Be Allowed in the State Election.

No "single-shotting" will be allowed in the state election Wednesday, by order of the state committee. If three men, for instance, are to be elected to any office, the voter must vote for three, and not for one. Ballots made out otherwise will be disqualified.

The city polls and the polls at Black Hall, College Park, Hapeville and East Point will be open at 7 o'clock and close at 7 o'clock. All other country districts will open at 8 o'clock and close at 3, the polls to be located in the justice courtroom. The location of the city polls will be as follows:

First Ward—23 West Alabama street.
Second Ward—90 South Pryor street (Bernard's Auction House).
Third Ward—Hunter street, near Frasier.
Fourth Ward—384 Edgewood avenue.
Fifth Ward—744 Marietta street (Brooks' store).
Sixth Ward—83 Marietta street.
Seventh Ward—201 Lee street, near Gordon.
Eighth Ward—Tenth and Peachtree streets.
Ninth Ward—Edgewood avenue and Krog.
Tenth Ward—Tucker & MacMurray's store (Oakland City).
Cooks District—Jones' soda stand (near National stock yards).
Edgewood — Townley's store, in Edgewood.
Peachtree—Tenth and Peachtree streets.
South Bend—Pool's store.

TYPOS DIVIDE ON PARTY LINES

Contests Between Progressives and the Administration Forces Keen.

Cleveland, Ohio, August 14.—No cut-and-dried proceedings serve to render the convention of the International Typographical union dull and tedious. Several questions that have arisen have indicated sharp party lines in the organization and contests between the "progressives" and the administration factions have been keen. Victory, as a rule, has fallen to the administration forces, but today the "progressives" scored.

Strenuous opposition to an administration resolution to amend the by-laws to make the terms of the international officers four years was led by C. A. Burton, of Fort Worth, Texas, who declared that the measure was an attempt to perpetuate the national officers in office.

President Lynch failed to quiet the turmoil when he started to announce that a viva voce vote seemed to show a majority in favor of the resolution. The anti-administrationists forced a vote, and the measure was defeated. A substitute motion making the term two years, as at present, and only two successive terms possible, also was defeated.

President Lynch, after the session, denied that he tried to aid the measure.

Nashville and New York today invited the 1913 convention, while Kansas City bid for the convention of 1914. The place for the next convention will be selected tomorrow.

President Freel, of the International Stereotypers' union, addressed the convention on the strike of Chicago pressmen, explaining that the charter of the Chicago local of his organization was suspended because of the illegal action of the Chicago body in going on strike. His explanation of the matter sustained President Lynch in his contention that the Chicago union was not entitled to recognition in the person of its president, L. B. Straube, on the floor of the convention.

SOLDIERS GIVE DANCE AT FORT FRIDAY NIGHT

The enlisted men at Fort McPherson will give another enjoyable dance at the post Friday night, to which everyone is invited. The regimental band will furnish the music. The post dances are noted for their hospitality and general good times, and are held in the gymnasium, which has an excellent floor for dancing.

Muzzling Law Repealed.

Thomasville, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The city council of Thomasville at their meeting this week decided to repeal the law requiring dogs to be muzzled during the dog days, or that part of the summer when canines are supposed to go mad, whether owing to the fact that the dog star is in the ascendant or that the hot weather has a bad effect upon their tempers, as it has been known to have upon that of their owners. Lately there has been a little scare about mad dogs, and the police have shot one or two that were thought to have been acting unnaturally, so council took up the question of trying the muzzles again. The majority decided, however, that as the muzzles were neither ornamental or useful there was no use in going to the expense of trying to enforce the law again, and it was accordingly repealed.

NOT PROBING RAY BUT DEPARTMENT

Secretary Stimson Refuses to Turn Over Letters to the House Committee.

Washington, August 14.—After Secretary Stimson today had denied that congress has a right to get through him letters of a personal nature, and had backed up his contention by arguments, Representative Bulkeley, of the committee that is investigating the conduct of Major Ray, asserted:

"This committee is not trying charges against Major Ray. He is but an incident. It is the department we are investigating, not the conduct of one of its officers."

Major Ray has been accused of having done political work for President Taft.

Representative Martin said the important thing to learn was whether the conduct of the war department was guided by a "hint" from somebody outside the department. Mr. Stimson said nothing had been found during his administration which warranted "disciplinary action" in the case.

"The hint might have come from someone whom you could not discipline," commented Mr. Bulkeley.

The war department and the white house tonight made public the correspondence relating to the proposed appointment of Major Ray to be deputy paymaster general with the rank of lieutenant colonel. In a letter to the president under date of April 12, 1912, Secretary of War Stimson submitted Ray's name for appointment, "under the rule of seniority" established by congress. The president's repy recommended that Major Ray's promotion be withheld pending conclusion of the investigation of the house committee on expenditures in the war department, but said:

"If, however, they take no action or make no report before the end of the session, I will send in Major Ray's name for promotion a few days before adjournment in order that I may make the temporary promotion of Major Ray by vacation appointment."

KILLING BY OFFICER TO BE INVESTIGATED

Columbus, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—It is understood that the Muscogee grand jury at its session this week will investigate the killing of Warner Young, a young man, by County Officer Charles A. Ellison recently.

Young had been convicted of a misdemeanor and as he was being carried to the county convict camp he sprang from the buggy in which he was riding with the officer and tried to escape. Ellison fired at him and one of the shots struck Young, killing him. The officer was arraigned before a magistrate recently, charged with murder, and was dismissed. The young man's relatives are now taking the case before the grand jury.

LINEMEN'S INITIATION STARTS LYNCHING STORY

Eufaula, Ala., August 14.—(Special.) When reports that a lynching had taken place on the south side of town Monday night were circulated about the city, the entire population of Eufaula, especially the negroes, became stirred up. But investigation by the police authorities showed that the reported lynching was only a party of telephone linemen initiating a "greeny."

The man being initiated was gagged and bound and the linemen were escorting him toward the negro cemetery. When the negroes saw the party they became terrified and started the report of the lynching.

EVERYONE INVITED TO BUENA VISTA 'CUE

Buena Vista, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—A barbecue and reunion will be held at Buena Vista on Thursday, August 22. Arrangements are being made to entertain and feed 5,000 people, and all are welcome.

It is not to be a political speaking, but a social, friendly gathering at a big barbecue, where the citizens of Buena Vista will welcome the citizens from other sections.

Two baseball games have been arranged, one in the morning at 10 o'clock, and in the afternoon at 2:30. Dancing, a merry-go-round and other forms of amusement will be in vogue. A brass band of twenty-two pieces will furnish music throughout the day. A special invitation is extended to all.

COMMISSIONER BOWERS ACCUSED OF LOBBYING

Washington, August 14.—Charges that Commissioner George M. Bowers, of the bureau of fisheries of the department of commerce and labor, had been "lobbying" in congress in an effort to delay action on the bill which would give effect to the treaty negotiated between the United States, Great Britain, Japan and Russia for the protection of fur seals and seal otter in the North Pacific, were made in the senate today by Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, in the course of an attack on the administration of that office by Commissioner Bowers.

Senator Hitchcock declared that Commissioner Bowers was under the influence of those interested in companies that had been given the privileges of killing seals in the Bribilof islands, and in this connection asserted that Bowers' appointment to office was the result of efforts of the late Senator Stephen B. Elkins, of West Virginia, who, in turn, was financially interested in the North American Commercial company, which held a government lease for the killing of seals.

CANDLER APPEALS FOR CITY UNITY

"Should Be No Sections Where Atlanta Is Concerned."

An appeal is made by Colonel Asa G. Candler, Sr., to wipe out sectional lines in Atlanta. He says that the people of such a growing, thriving, bustling city like Atlanta should not get to bickering about "this side" or "that side" when public improvements are made. His idea is that there should be no north, south, east or west side, but that all the people should pull for the entire city and be proud of improvements wherever made.

"I greatly regret to see any evidence of sectional feeling among some of our citizens," says Colonel Candler. "We should all pull together as a unit and have no favored sides—there should be no north, no south, no east, no west. Lately whenever any street work is done somebody on the 'other side' of the city proceeds to set up a howl. There is much work to be done all over the city and it can't all be done at once. We should be loyal and patriotic enough to feel an interest in improvements wherever made in our fair city. Atlanta is Atlanta without any dividing lines.

"Any attempt to draw sectional lines in the city hurts. It prevents the people pulling together and when they do not pull together an injury is bound to result. So let us all stop any more such nonsense about 'my side of the town.' It does not show the true Atlanta spirit about which we say so much and of which we are so justly proud."

GLENWOOD TO HAVE COTTON WAREHOUSE

Glenwood, Ga, August 14.—(Special.) the farmers' union of Wheeler county held a rally yesterday. Addresses made by President Lawson E. Brown and Traffic Manager L. B. Cheatham on the national warehouse system were heartily received, and a large subscription was raised.

The company will open a branch warehouse here, which will be a good starter for the new county as it will give the small and large producer the benefit of expert and honest grading, putting money into the pockets of the man who really earns it, instead of the speculator. It is expected the warehouse will open and be ready for business this season.

PROVIDE ROADWAY, THEN CLOSE THE UNDERPASSES

The city charter amendment, which has been granted by the legislature to give the city the authority to close the Forsyth street underpasses, was changed so that as it now reads the city, before it closes the underpasses, must provide a roadway by which the railroads can reach their yards from some nearby street.

The amendment asked for by the mayor and city council did not provide for the city furnishing a roadway.

It is believed that this can be taken care of and that a plan will soon be devised whereby the railroad yards can be reached by approaches from either Alabama or Marietta street. The chief of construction some time ago submitted plans for a driveway to the railroad yards from Alabama street, where it connects with Madison avenue.

DOG THAT SAVED LIVES LEAVES $800 IN BANK

Columbus, Ohio, August 14.—Tige, the dog which saved several lives in a hotel fire here three years ago, is dead and tomorrow he will have a regular funeral, real hearse, real mourners and real pallbearers. Today he lies in state in the hotel parlor in a small white silver-handled coffin.

Tige leaves an estate, having had a bank account since his exploit of rousing Leslie Hatton's hotel guests when fire broke out. He got 10 cents fo revery rat he killed besides a regular allowance provided by his master and other admirers. Checks paid for the dog's board, Hatton says, and there is a balance of $800 to Tige's account.

EUGENE GRACE RESTING WELL

Not Yet Told He Cannot Recover From Paralysis—His Mother With Him.

Eugene H. Grace rested quietly Wednesday, following the five hours' operation of the day before. He is in splendid condition so far as rallying from the effects of the wound and the anaesthetic are concerned.

As yet, however, he has not been told that the operation was a failure in that it holds out no hope of his ultimate recovery from the paralysis which affects him. He had counted so much on this, was so hopeful and bright about the future, that it has been thought best not to tell him the result until he is fully well of the shock of the operation.

Constantly with Grace is Mrs. S. L. Hill, of Newnan, his mother. The result of the operation has been a blow to her and at times Wednesday she was forced to leave his bedside because of her tears. The patient will remain here until well enough to be moved, when he will return to his home in Newnan.

TRAMPLED BY HORSE HE HAD JUST BOUGHT

Bremen, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) Johnny Chance, a young man about 21 years old, narrowly escaped instant death yesterday afternoon when he was thrown violently from a buggy by a runaway horse. Young Chance was at Bowden and had just purchased the horse and was leaving for his home at this place when the accident occurred.

Becoming entangled in the buggy lines, he was dragged for a considerable distance, being trampled on by the animal. Besides other serious wounds the unfortunate young man sustained a fracture of the skull. He was brought home in an unconscious condition and has not yet rallied. He is the oldest son of W. E. A. Chance and is very popular.

COLQUITT NOMINATED BY TEXAS DEMOCRATS

San Antonio, Texas, August 14.—A thirty-minute demonstration for United States Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey was the feature of the final session late this afternoon of the state democratic convention. The demonstration arose over the adoption of a resolution commending Bailey for his course in congress.

Governor O. B. Colquitt was renominated and his platform adopted. Prominent in the platform is a declaration for closing the saloons at 9:30 o'clock every week day night.

Walter Collins, of Hill county, was elected state chairman.

Morris Sheppard was declared the nominee for United States senator.

BATTLESHIP FLEET TO VISIT SAVANNAH

Washington, August 14.—Secretary Meyer announced today that some time this fall or winter he would show the southern people the magnificent Atlantic fleet at as many of the principal harbors of the south Atlantic and gulf coasts as the dreadnaughts can enter or even approach within reasonable distance. On the list of places to be visited are Charleston, Savannah, Pensacola, New Orleans, Mobile and Galveston.

THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

The Forsyth is playing to capacity at every performance this week. The bill has attracted more than ordinary interest and the splendid cooling and ventilating plant is doing its full duty in keeping the crowded theater comfortable. Gertrude Vanderbilt and George Moore have eclipsed every hit that has been recorded by a singing and dancing couple at the Forsyth. Both are decidedly clever, and Miss Vanderbilt has won the admiration of every audience. Another act that is winning favor and helping to attract the great crowds is the offering of the three Lyres, clever musicians, introducing one of the most original funny fellows that has been seen here. The sketch of Sydney Drew is clever and there is additional interest because the playlet is from the pen of the late Jack Futrelle.

Seats for popular vaudeville, five acts and motion pictures, starting next Monday, can be reserved at the box office daily.

WICKERSHAM DEFENDS TAFT ADMINISTRATION

Chautauqua, N. Y., August 14.—George W. Wickersham, attorney general of the United States, spoke here this afternoon on the policies and record of the Taft administration. It was the first speech of a political symposium arranged by the chautauqua management for the balance of the season. Eugene W. Chafin, prohibition candidate for president, will speak tomorrow afternoon, and William J. Bryan will discuss the political situation from a democratic standpoint on Friday. An effort is being made to get Colonel Rosevelt to speak.

The portion of Mr. Wickersham's address that aroused the most enthusiasm was in reference to the administration's prosecution of trusts.

"Friend and foe have been treated alike," he declared with much earnestness, "and it has been truthfully said that the abuse which has been visited upon the president has been in a large measure because he has enforced the law against friend and foe alike without fear or favor."

Mr. Wickersham spoke for an hour and at the end of his speech held a short reception.

Mrs. Cowart Entertains.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Cowart entertained a number of their friends at their home on Grady place last Thursday night, in honor of the Misses Van Der Poel, of Florida.

The house was artistically decorated in yellow and white, that being the color scheme.

Mrs. Cowart made a charming hostess, and was becomingly gowned in white marquisette trimmed with Irish point lace. Miss Emmie Van Der Poel was attractively gowned in white crepe de chine, and Miss Rhea Van Der Poel wore white marquisette embroidered in old rose.

Misses Highers and Hall presided at the punch bowl.

After a delightful musical program, the guests repaired to the dining room, where the color scheme was carried out in the cakes and ices that were served.

About fifty guests enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Cowart's hospitality.

Gray-Hall.

The marriage of Miss Leta Gray, of Oxford, Ala., and Mr. Eben Hall, of Anniston, Ala., took place last evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Charles D. Hurt, on West Peachtree street, at 7 o'clock, Dr. Daniel, of the First Baptist church, officiating.

The house was decorated with palms and ferns and a profusion of flowers.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. W. C. Gray, of Oxford, Ala., was lovely in her going-away gown of tan cloth with hat to match, and she carried bride roses and valley lilies.

Mr. Hall and his bride left immediately for a trip to New York and Canada and on their return will be at home in Anniston, where Mr. Hall is well and popularly known in both social and business life.

Miss Crichton's Dance.

Miss May Crichton entertained at a delightful dance last evening at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Logan M. Crichton, in compliment to her visitors, Misses Kathleen Meadows and Thelma Wright, of Elberton, and Miss Cynthia Ellis, of Griffin.

Ferns and palms banked the mantels and bowls of golden glow and Japanese sunflowers were used with artistic effect throughout the apartments.

Punch was served in the breakfast room, which was a bower of green, and presiding at the punch bowl were Miss Erskine Jarnagin and her guests, Misses Caroline and Sue Northrop, of Wilmington.

An orchestra furnished the music and dainty refreshments were served during the evening, the ices and cakes being in yellow.

Miss Crichton wore a gown of blue embroidered crepe de chine with crystal trimmings.

Miss Meadows wore blue crepe over pink satin; Miss Wright's gown was yellow chiffon over white with pearl trimmings and Miss Ellis wore pink chiffon over pink. Mrs. Crichton, who assisted her daughter in entertaining, wore a gown of white embroidered chiffon. Sixty of the younger set enjoyed the evening.

Michelson-Frankenberger.

The marriage of Miss Bess Ira Michelson and Captain Samuel Frankenberger of the United States army, was a pretty event of last evening, taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Michelson, on Washington street, at 7 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Weiss, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends. There were no attendants. The house was attractively decorated with palms, ferns and pink roses.

The bride was charming in a handsome white lingerie gown and carried bride roses and valley lilies.

The bride's parents entertained the company at an elegant dinner after the ceremony. Paul Neyron roses and ferns forming the centerpiece of the table.

Captain and Mrs. Frankenberger will leave Friday for New York and other points east. They will go later to California, sailing from San Francisco September 5th for Manilla, and will be at home at Fort William McKinley, where Captain Frankenberger is stationed.

For Miss Talmadge.

Miss Ruth Paden entertained yesterday afternoon at her home in Kirkwood at an informal tea for her guest, Miss Lucile Talmadge, of Forsyth.

The tea table, which was on the lawn was attractive with Paul Neyron roses.

The guests were Miss Lucile Talmadeg of Forsyth, Miss Helen Rhorer, Miss Louise Parker, Miss Wickliffe Wurm, Miss Mary Murphy, Miss Margaret Fraser, Miss Frances Springer, Miss Sarah Burt and Miss Margaret Ersley.

Miss Broyles' Luncheon.

Miss Louise Broyles entertained at a pretty luncheon yesterday at Brookhaven club, in compliment to Miss Cora McCord Brown's house party guests, who are Miss Edith Jackson, of Augusta; Miss Rachel Nunnally, of Monroe; Miss Louise Peacock, Miss Ethel Scarborough and Miss Mabel Pearce, of Columbus; Miss Fay Dobbs and Miss Emma Jordan, of Atlanta.

The other guests were: Miss Rosalie Davis, Miss Dorothy High, Miss Helen McCarty, Miss Josephine Mobley, Miss Kathleen DuBose, Miss Sarah Bell, Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Mrs. T. P. Hinman, Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun, Mrs. Junius G. Oglesby, Jr., and Mrs. Andrew Calhoun.

The table was decorated with golden rod and white hydrangeas. Miss Broyles wore a lingerie gown with picture hat.

Dance for Visitors.

Miss Eleanor Williams entertained twenty-four guests at an informal dance last evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Allen, on Fourteenth street, for Misses Mary and Augusta Howard, of Augusta.

W. C. T. U.

The Atlanta Frances Willard Woman's Christian Temperance union will hold its regular session Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, in the Sunday school room of new Trinity church, corner Washington and Trinity avenue.

The general public is cordially invited to be present.

For Miss Lacy.

Mrs. Boykin Turman entertained twelve guests yesterday afternoon at an automobile ride and later at tea at Hexagon hall, in honor of her guest, Miss Lacy, of Philadelphia.

For Miss Miller.

Mrs. V. V. McBride was hostess at a pretty bridge party yesterday afternoon, in honor of Miss Mamie Miller, of Fort Valley, who is the guest of Mrs. M. C. Hardin.

Golden glow, Japanese flowers and nasturtiums artistically decorated the rooms, where the game was played.

The prizes were silk stockings and a boudoir cap, and the guest of honor was given silk stockings.

Mrs. McBride wore for the afternoon a white lingerie gown and Miss Miller's becoming gown was yellow chiffon cloth.

Cone-Gray.

The wedding of Miss Laurine Cone to Mr. Lynwood William Gray was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. John F. Cone, 857 Peachtree street, last night at 8 o'clock. The wedding was a very quiet affair, and was witnessed by only the members of the immediate family. Dr. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church, pronounced the ceremony. Miss Katherine Cone, a sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, while Mr. A. C. Tiley was best man.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Savannah, from whence they will go by boat to New York. They will make a wedding journey to all of the principal points of the east.

For Visitors.

Miss Mary Hartfelder and Mr. John C. Hartfelder, of Savannah, who are the guests of Miss Marguerite and Mr. Charles Gallmard, were the guests of honor at an al fresco party last evening given by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Christian.

Tonight they will be entertained at a large card party, and other entertainments planned are a watermelon party Thursday week, and several theater parties.

Miss Blanch Plunkett will entertain twelve guests next Thursday afternoon, and Miss Irene Young will entertain next Wednesday in their honor.

For Miss Parker.

Mr. Wilson Goree entertained at an informal dance last evening at his home on North Boulevard in honor of Miss Louise Parker. The guests included a party of young people who were together at a recent house party given by Miss Parker at her summer home at Clayton.

Informal Tea.

Mrs. A. R. Colcord had as her guests at tea yesterday afternoon at Brookhaven club, Mrs Harvie Jordan, Mrs. James Nesbit, of Macon; Mrs. Joseph Camp and Mrs. Charles Griffin, of Eastman.

Effective, Economical Complexion Beautifier

(Julia Orff in The Clubwoman.)

One reason I so strongly recommend mercolized wax is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleansing cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. As the wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored cuticle, a little each day, the underlying skin which gradually appears, is clearer, softer, healthier-hued and more youthful than any cosmetic-made complexion. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off mornings, in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, tan, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads.

For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, I invariably recommend a face bath made by dissolving 1 ounce powdered saxolite in one-half pint witch hazel. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

ALEXANDER TALKS IN TROUP COUNTY

Candidate for Governor Scores Privileged Classes and Liquor Interests.

LaGrange, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) "Crush out the privileges of the privileged classes and restore this country to a true democracy."

This is the panacea advocated for all civic ills by Hooper Alexander, in a speech here Tuesday night before about two hundred local people in the courthouse.

Corporations and privileged classes, so called by Mr. Alexander, received a spotted bill of health at his hands, and the liquor interests, which he stated were behind all corrupt legislation and privileges in Georgia, went by the board and skimmed into political oblivion with celerity, while Mr. Alexander extended to LaGrangeites the truths which he had gathered in eight years of legislative duty in Atlanta.

Evidences of the workings of the liquor interests had gradually increased day by day since a few months after the prohibition law of 1907 became effective, according to Mr. Alexander. He stated that at first near beer had been foisted upon the unsuspecting Georgia public and then along came the wealthy locker club, wherein all sorts of vinous and spirituous liquors could be found, and lately the lowlier citizens of the state had also started in the locker club business and more recently the large cities were an open sesame to the liquor dealers.

Atlanta judges were charged with being members of these locker clubs, and Mr. Alexander stated that such membership evidently had clogged the wheels of justice, thus permitting the "privileged" locker clubs to continue in their business without molestation. "Senator Jack Slaton," said Mr. Alexander, "is a member of and president of a locker club in Atlanta, and my opponent has so far refused to meet me in joint debate upon the great questions of state which confront us. He has never stated his position upon the liquor question, and that is the kind of a man who is making the race for governor."

Mr. Alexander expounded the Tippins bill. He stated that the bill was not a prohibition measure, but simply a measure to put authority in the hands of the authorities for liquor business regulation and extermination in Georgia. He contended that if elected to the governorship he would see that the prohibition law was obeyed to the letter. He stated that it was being openly and flagrantly violated every day in Georgia with the full knowledge of the courts and officials of the state. He also took occasion to state how much he thought could be saved the state in freight rates if the state's railroad were extended to Savannah. Slowprocesses of legislation and lobbying were also scored by the speaker.

WASHINGTON SEMINARY ADDS DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Beginning with the coming session, September 12, Washington Seminary will have a thorough course in domestic science and arts, which is made a part of the regular curriculum of the school.

Miss Mary E. Hoffman, of Detroit, a specialist in this work, has been engaged to take charge of the department, and will give practical instruction in cooking, the study of foods, food values, sanitation, sewing, etc.

The equipment, including twenty-five gas stoves and full kitchen outfits, are now being installed in the handsome new school building.

Afternoon classes for matrons and young women will be formed in September. For full information address L. D. & E. B. Scott, Principals, Atlanta. Phone Ivy 647.

THIRD DISTRICT MASONS IN SESSION AT CORDELE

Cordele, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—About one hundred delegates and visitors to the Third congressional district Masonic convention, in session here today and tomorrow with Cordelia lodge No. 296, are in attendance upon the sessions of the annual convention which, it is understood, will be one of the most successful ever held.

The opening session was held this morning at 10 o'clock at the Masonic temple. The address of welcome on the part of the city was made by Secretary J. A. Littlejohn, of the local lodge, in the absence of Mayor Dorris, and on the part of the fraternity by D. A. R. Crum, W. M. The addresses of welcome were responded to by R. L. Blalock, of Americus.

The afternoon sessions were devoted to routine business and the visitors were entertained with auto rides and at the local show house. A special feature of entertainment being arranged for the visitors on tomorrow, after all business matters have been transacted, is a sumptuous barbecue at the temple. It is expected that the principal address of tomorrow will be made by Deputy Grand Master R. L. Colding, of Savannah.

YELLOW PINE DEALERS IN SESSION AT PIEDMONT

The Southern Yellow Pine association is in session at the Piedmont hotel. This association is composed of leading men of the south who specialize in yellow pine. It was declared yesterday morning that a discussion of freight rates and other matters of routine interest were being considered. About fifteen or twenty delegates are in attendance.

GEORGIA TO HEAR BULL MOOSE CALL

Col. Roosevelt Coming in October—Race Between Wilson and Roosevelt.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, August 14.—(Special.) Theodore Roosevelt expects to visit Georgia the latter part of October in the course of a campaign tour of the southern states and will make a desperate effort to carry the state in the November election. That he will emphasize while in the state the policy he has adopted toward the negro and will also make a sentimental appeal to the people of the state which was the birthplace of his mother, goes without saying.

Mr. Roosevelt will also make campaign speeches in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and probably North Carolina.

Friends of the new progressive party candidate are beginning to assert with a fine show of confidence that he will break the solid south. His Georgia itinerary will be arranged by the state progressive leaders.

From reports received in Washington from over the country it is beginning to dawn on the members of congress that the race is between Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt. President Taft is already hopelessly beaten and a liberal estimate of his strength is 100 electoral votes out of a possible 531.

While the power of the new party supporters in the various states is too inchoate as yet to enable an estimate of whether its greatest strength will be developed, the undercurrent of feelings points to a desertion of Taft for Roosevelt on the part of the republican voters. How many adherents he will pull away from the democratic ranks remains to be seen.

The first campaign tour of Mr. Roosevelt will begin the first week in September, when he will speak in St. Louis, St. Paul, Los Angeles and other points in the west. Returning to New York, he will rest a short while before campaigning in the south.

MASS MEETING CALLED BY CORDELE COUNCIL

Cordele, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The call sent out this afternoon by members of the city council for a mass meeting to be held at the courthouse early tomorrow evening has created not a little local interest, especially in view of the fact that it is openly anticipated from the tone of the call that at the meeting the first big gun will be fired against the bond commission provided by a bill, passed in the legislature during its last day's sessions, which Representative Gower was petitioned by a large number of voters to draft and introduce for amendment to the city charter.

The bond commission provided, naming Dr. D. J. Williams, Jerry Slade and L. H. Webb as commissioners, gives that body charge of the expenditure of the money to be derived from the issue of $95,000 recently voted for publim improvements.

The fight waged by members of the council against the amendment has been bitter and has been made to involve opposition to Representative Gower for re-election, as well as a lot of bitterness and strife in municipal politics.

GROCERS' COMMITTEE MEETS IN MACON

Macon, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—A committee representing the National Wholesale Grocers' association met here today to consider a number of matters connected with the work of the association.

The result of the meeting was not made public and the committee will make its report at the next national convention. The committee was entertained during the day by the local wholesale grocers.

The members of the committee who met were: W. E. Small, of Macon, chairman; J. H. McLaurin, of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association; H. L. Hunt, Wilmington, N. C.; A. P. Bush, Mobile, Ala.; T. H. Sheehy, Washington, D. C.; J. F. Ray, Reidsville, N. C.; E. L. Adams, Atlanta; J. B. Faucett, Bristol, Tenn.; Messrs. Dyer and Brandon, of Dublin, Ga.

COMMITTEES TO INSPECT REPAIR WORK ON SCHOOLS

When the bond commission meets this morning at 11 o'clock in the mayor's office, special committees from each ward will be appointed to inspect the repair work done this summer on the twelve new school buildings which were found to be in bad condition this spring.

Twelve new schools were constructed last year with a portion of the moneyes obtained through the city's big bond issue. This spring three of the schools were found to be in very bad repair. There were none of the new structures in perfect condition. When it seemed as though an official investigation would be made regarding the matter, the constructing contractors agreed to make all necessary repairs on each building.

The repairs have not been fully completed on a majority of the buildings, as the school authorities asked the contractors to wait as long as possible in order that the plastering, etc., could be done in August while the weather is warmer than it generally is in the earlier months.

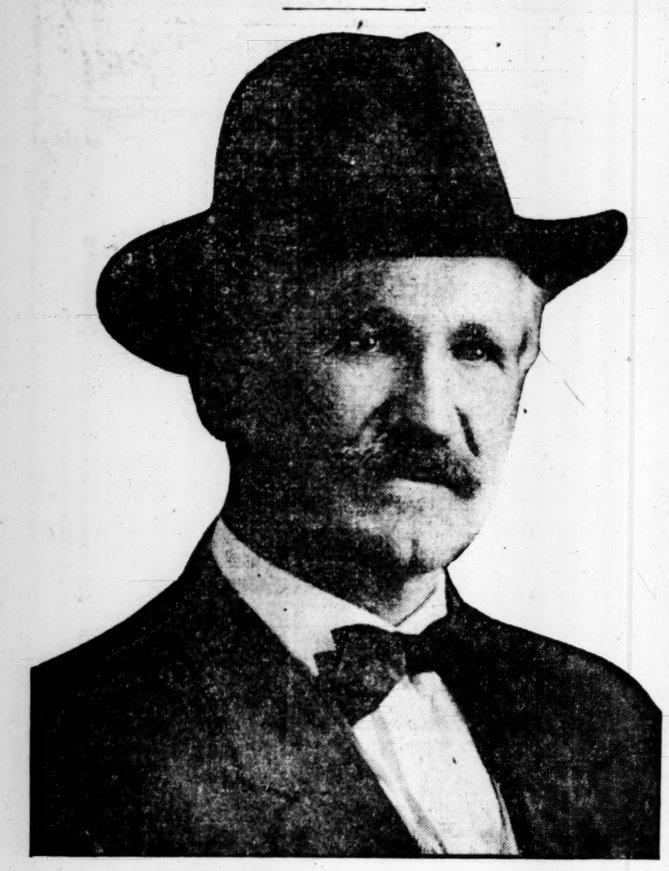
J. J. BROWN FIRES VOLLEY OF HOT SHOTS AT A. O. BLALOCK



J. J. BROWN,
Candidate for commissioner of agriculture.

The race for governor is not obscuring the spirited contest for commissioner of agriculture. Among the interesting developments of the last few days is a public letter from J. J. Brown, a practical farmer, who is one of the candidates, to A. O. Blalock, another candidate, in which he makes some specific charges and invites Mr. Blalock to answer them at any of the appointments Mr. Brown has made for speaking dates.

Mr. Brown has opened up headquarters at 12 West Alabama street, over the American National bank, and his campaign is in the capable hands of Polk Brown.

His interesting letter to A. O. Blalock follows:

Atlanta, Ga., August 14, 1912.
Hon. A. O. Blalock, Senate Chamber,
State Capitol, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir: As you are now a candidate for the office of commissioner of agriculture, I take it that you are cognizant of the fact that the law requires that the commissioner of agriculture "shall be a practical farmer."

Now, it has been publicly charged that you are not "a practical farmer," but that you are a lawyer by profession and that your services and admitted talents as such are bought and paid for by a certain corporation doing business in this state.

It is publicly charged, to be more specific, that you are the attorney for the Southern railway, the Central of Georgia railroad and the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, and that by reason of the services you render these public service corporations a part of your compensation consists of free passes over these various lines of railroads.

It is also charged that you are president and general manager of a cotton seed oil mill at Fayetteville, Ga., and a member of the Cotton Seed Crushers' association, and that you are a leading banker of your home town. It is further publicly charged that you have formed a combination with Hon. E. Cabaniss, who is an ex-president of the Farmers' Union of this state, as your running mate for the purpose of riding into office on the shoulders of the farmers composing this organization.

Since I have occupied the office of assistant to the commissioner of agriculture I have realized fully the wisdom of the law that requires that the office of commissioner of agriculture be filled by one who is a practical farmer, for the opportunity of rendering a great and valuable service to the agricultural interests of this great state is presented each day, and the responsibilities of a commissioner who undertakes the duties of this office are indeed great.

As a lifelong farmer and one who has studied farming in all its phases, I do not believe that you are fitted to carry out the objects for which this office was created, aside from being legally ineligible, and as I am calling the attention of the voters of this state to these public charges, and, as I do not desire to take any advantage of you, I respectfully invite you to be present at any or all of the appointments I may make, which will be published in the papers, and to reply, if you see fit, to them, guaranteeing to you that the utmost courtesy will be shown to you by myself and friends.

Unlike you and my other opponent, I have never offered or held an elective office, but if elected I am free to assume the duties of office free from past political obligations.

Very truly yours,
J. J. BROWN.

MISS JANE ADDAMS ATTACKED FOR JOINING ROOSEVELT PARTY

Manchester, Mass., August 14.—Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, Chicago, gets another drubbing today from a sociological compatriot for the part she has assumed in the progressive party. This time it is Miss Mabel T. Boardman, president of the National Red Cross, who in explaining her refusal to participate actively in politics because of her association with a great non-political movement, takes Miss Addams to task.

"A breach of political propriety," is the way Miss Boardman describes Miss Addams' activities.

Miss Boardman, who yesterday was appointed by the republican national committee head of the woman's advisory committee, authorized a statement today in part as follows:

"Because my name has been used as being chairman of the advisory committee of the woman's national republican association, I feel called upon to make this statement. As a private individual I have the right to take a keen interest in the welfare of the country, of all its people and my government. As a private citizen I believe in the policies of the republican party and the progressive promises of its platform.

"I believe in the midst of world-wide unrest President Taft has made a wise and great president; that he has accomplished by quiet, persistent effort more true progress than any other president.

"This is my belief as a private citizen, but I believe also that no one whose name has been so associated with any great non-political work or organization has the right to permit the use of his or her name in public when such cannot fail to carry with it more or less of the influence of the work or organization with which he or she may have been publicly associated.

"I hold that for this reason Miss Addams, though having the right to her personal convictions, has not the right to utilize the influence of the great social betterment work with which she has been so widely associated for the benefit of political parties. She must by her action seem to the public to give with her name the weight of the influence of the work with which she has been connected and this I believe neither she nor anyone else has a moral right to do. They give with their names what is not theirs to give."

BOYS ARE BLAMED FOR RACE RIOTS

Drunken Youngsters Held Responsible for Two Serious Clashes Near Rome.

Rome, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The city and county officers are vexed that irresponsible boys, filled with mean whisky, should have precipitated in two weeks' time two serious clashes between the races in this section, and are determined to prosecute this class vigorously.

Several shooting affrays of minor importance were the outgrowth of the Saturday and Sunday disturbance at DeSoto park, when young James Bolt was killed and several others wounded. The negroes have not returned to their homes, which the officers are guarding. There will be no further trouble.

The city and county authorities have arrested seven negroes and three white men for the recent riots. Others are wanted.

Politics in Floyd.

Rome, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Interest in the approaching primary in Floyd county has reached the high water mark within the past week, after a long period of inactivity on the part of the candidates. The race for solicitor between the present incumbent, John W. Bale, and State Senator W. H. Ennis, is attracting most attention because of its closeness and the fact that three counties comprising the Rome judicial circuit, Floyd, Chattoona and Walker, will take part. Congressman Gordon Lee has no opposition.

There are eighteen candidates for county commissioners, as follows: W. M. Gammon, J. G. Pollock, Y. H. Smith, C. M. Young, A. W. Bobo, W. C. Lovell, M. L. Schell, J. W. Yarbrough, J. E. Camp, W. O. Conner, J. Scott Davis, W. J. Walker, T. E. Bridges, R. S. Hamrick, C. W. Shelton, W. N. Horton, J. M. Jones and John W. Salmon. The principal fight is between the Gammon and Pollock tickets.

Seven aspire to the legislature, as follows: John C. Foster, W. M. Martin, W. B. Mebane, C. D. Meadows, W. J. Nunnally, R. H. Wicker and Barry Wright.

Medical Building Sold.

Rome, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The second largest realty deal ever made in Rome was consummated when C. B. Goetchius sold for the heirs of the Battey estate the Medical building, on the corner of Third avenue and Broad street, to Mrs. Sallie Turner and Mrs. Nan Hale, the consideration being $40,000. The building is three stories and has a frontage of 66 feet on Broad street and 75 feet on Third avenue. The purchase was made as an investment.

"IT IS UP TO YOU," SAYS ALEXANDER

In a Pronunciamento Issued to the Prohibitionists of the State.

Hooper Alexander, candidate for governor, has issued a pronunciamento addressed to "The Prohibitionists of Georgia," in which he appeals for their support as one who is "on their side," though he does not in this statement make any reference to his defeat of the referendum feature of the Tippins bill. Had the measure been left to the people for ratification it would have undoubtedly passed the general assembly and been approved by Governor Brown.

Representative Alexander led the fight against the referendum feature of the bill. The Constitution having specifically charged that the defeat of the bill was brought about directly by Mr. Alexander in order that his candidacy for the governorship might not be interfered with, Candidate Alexander charges in his pronunciamento that "The Constitution is an enemy of prohibition, which seeks to persuade the law-abiding people, and does persuade some of them, that the way to enforce and preserve their law is to vote against its friends and put its enemies in office as its guardians."

Mr. Alexander refers to Judge W. R. Hammond, for two years president of the Anti-Saloon league and who now opposes Mr. Alexander, as "poor Judge Hammond." He says he cannot forget Judge Hammond's treatment of him in 1888, when he was a candidate for solicitor general, saying when he was sick and went to the mountains of North Carolina he received a telegraph message to come home immediately to support Judge Hammond, then a candidate for the state senate. He returned and Judge Hammond was defeated for the senate and he, too, was defeated for solicitor general, being unable to get any support from Judge Hammond. "This is the thing"—referring to Judge Hammond—"The Constitution now uses in the disloyal effort to hit me a blow . . . When The Constitution quotes him on a public question it is merely pulling the wires that make a skeleton dance." Mr. Alexander then goes on to tell the prohibitionists that "they have got the chance of a lifetime," continuing:

"They point to your vote last year for Governor Brown, who ran on a platform of opposition to you, and for whom you voted. I tell them you were deceived by those who told you that he didn't mean to veto the bill. When I tell them this they point to the fact that there are prohibitionists today actually voting for Slaton, the bitterest and most dangerous enemy to prohibition in this state, and warn me against people who can actually be duped into giving serious attention to Clark Howell's editorials."

The statement further charges that Slaton has been running for five months, while he (Alexander) entered the race only a few minutes before the time for entries to close. "Every politician in the state is against me. I haven't one. I am glad of it. . . . It is in the power of the prohibitionists to put me in the office of governor. . . . If you do you will strike the final blow to the liquor sellers' insurrection. . . . If the prohibitionists let themselves be made tools of and put Slaton in office the prohibition cause is set back for ten years."

He tells the prohibitionists that if Slaton is beaten he is ended forever in Georgia politics. "It is different with me; I stand for a definite set of principles." In conclusion he tells the prohibitionists "it's up to" them.

ADAMS FAMILY SLEEPS UNTIL BEDDING BURNS

Macon, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The family of J. S. Adams had a close call from being burned to death early this morning when their home at Crump's Park was burned to the ground. The members of the family did not awaken until portions of the ceiling began to fall in, setting fire to the bedding.

The house and contents were a total loss.

DENMARK BEQUEST FOUGHT IN COURT

Widow Striving to Break Will Benefiting University of Georgia.

Friends and alumni of the University of Georgia will know in a few days whether or not that institution will have the use of the $150,000 estate of the late Brantley S. Denmark, of Savannah.

Mrs. Denmark has sought to have the will of her husband set aside, and the case was tried this week in the superior court of Chatham county. Judge G. F. Gober, of this city, returned Wednesday from Savannah, where he has been with other attorneys representing the side of the university.

When Mr. Denmark died in 1901 he left an estate valued at $150,000 with the proviso that his wife and son use the money during their lives and if the son died without an heir that the entire amount was to revert to the University of Georgia at the death of Mrs. Denmark.

The son died about five or six years ago without an heir, and there was no intimation that Mrs. Denmark was not contented with the will until this year, when she entered suit to have it set aside on the grounds that more than one-third of it was to be given an educational institution.

In her suit Mrs. Denmark declared that there were institutions more worthy and more needy than the University of Georgia, and it is because that she desires to will the estate to other institutions that the suit was started.

The trustees of the University of Georgia have fought the suit with vigor. A decision will be rendered in the case within the next few days.

AUTOIST RUNS OVER YOUNG MARIETTA BOY

Marietta, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) N. M. Mayes, one of the most careful automobile drivers in Marietta, came very near killing the little son of Mr. Woodruff, a sewing machine agent, at 7 o'clock this morning.

The little one was following his father when the noise of the machine attracted his attention, confusing him so that he turned directly into the automobile. The car hit his forehead, knocking him backward, and passed over his body. Beyond a bad cut in the forehead he was not hurt. The machine went on into a nearby telephone pole before it stopped.

MISS ROSA COOPER DIED WEDNESDAY

Widely Connected Throughout State—Daughter of Late Congressman Cooper.

Miss Rosa L. Cooper, widely known and loved throughout the state, and connected with many prominent families, died Wednesday afternoon shortly before 6 o'clock at a private sanitarium. She had been sick for some time, her recovery despaired of, owing to her advanced age, 68 years.

Miss Cooper was a daughter of the late Mark A. Cooper, congressman and pioneer in the industrial upbuilding of the state. She was a sister of Mrs. William A. Pope, of Washington, Ga., and an aunt of Thomas L. Cooper and Walter G. Cooper, of Atlanta; Pembroke Pope, of Washington; J. P. Cooper, Rome; Mrs. Minter Wimberly, Macon, and Mrs. John Hill, of Washington.

Some years ago Miss Cooper came to Atlanta to reside. She spent most of her life on her father's farm in Bartow county, or at Cartersville, and was known to a wide circle of friends. The funeral will take place Friday at the family cemetery, near the home of Mark A. Cooper, in Bartow county. Friends and relatives will go from Atlanta that morning at 8:25 o'clock.

The body was removed to the chapel of Barclay & Brandon until Friday morning, when it will be taken to Cartersville for the funeral and interment.

POTTLE IS INDORSED BY TROUP COUNTY BAR

LaGrange, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Indorsement of Judge J. R. Pottle, of the court of appeals, has been made by the Troup county bar, and a testimonial to this effect has been signed and sent to Judge Pottle. The indorsement is as follows:

"We, the undersigned, members of the Troup County Bar association, recognizing the eminent fitness and ability of Judge J. R. Pottle, hereby indorse his candidacy for election to the court of appeals in the election to be held August 21." The indorsement is signed by Attorneys E. A. Jones, E. R. Bradfield, Jr., M. F. McLendon, R. E. Lee, Benjamin H. Hill, R. M. Young, D. J. Gaffney, Henry Reeves, F. M. Longley, W. R. Campbell, Hatton Lovejoy, Arthur Greer and M. U. Mooty.

COLUMBUS PEOPLE AGAINST LYNCHING

Expected That the Grand Jury Which Meets Today Will Make Investigation.

Columbus, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) While the city of Columbus has been very quiet today, following the lynching of the negro, T. Z. McElhaney, late yesterday afternoon by a small mob, who took their victim from officers in the court room after court adjourned, carried him to a street car, boarded it and went to the outskirts of the city, where they shot him to death, the occurrence has been the talk of the town today.

McElhaney was charged with having murdered young Cedron Land, a white boy about 12 years of age. Sentiment of the people of the city appears to be pretty well unanimous in condemning the lynching. Only now and then is one heard to commend it.

The grand jury will meet tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, and, while there has been no statement from Judge Gilbert to this effect, it is generally understood that he will give the jury a special charge concerning the tragedy of yesterday. Judge Gilbert prefers not to have anything to say for publication at this time.

The body of the negro who was lynched lay where it fell until about midnight last night before a negro undertaker would take charge of it. It is understood that the negro feared that members of the mob were lurking in the vicinity, and would shoot anyone who approached the body.

MASONS OF EIGHTH CONVENE AT ATHENS

Athens, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The annual convention of the eighth district Masons, which convenes in Athens the second Wednesday in every August, enjoyed the best session today ever. More than 200 were here from thirteen counties and nearly forty lodges.

A profitable business session, the conferring of the master's degree by the Athens team, noted for its work for years, an elegant barbecue and a night sesison in the university chapel with Hon. W. H. Ballard, R. W. G. S. D., of Brunswick, as the principal speaker, and some delightful musical numbers made up a notable day for the fraternity of this section of the state.

MACON TO VOTE ON CITY LIGHTS

Election Will Be Held for Authority to Draw 5-Year Contract.

Macon, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Macon is going after cheaper lights for her streets, parks and public buildings, council having ordered the clerk to advertise for bids to be opened on the night of August 20 for furnishing the city lights on a five-year contract. As this can only be done when ratified by the voters, a special registration has been ordered to begin September and continue for thirty days, and the date of the election will be fixed for early in November.

Already the Public Service corporation, of which W. J. Massee is the head, has offered to supply the city with lights at a rate $20,000 a year cheaper than that charged by the Macon Railway and Light company. With the two corporations bidding against each other, it is believed that even a cheaper rate can be secured. In any event the city is in line to save at least $100,000 in five years' time.

The new contract will be effective on January 1, 1913, if ratified by a two-thirds vote of the registered voters.

SUMTER TAX RETURNS SHOW $300,000 INCREASE

Americus, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) Consolidated property returns for Sumter county, announced today by Tax Receiver Howell, show an increase of approximately $300,000 over the returns for last year. The increase in two years has been well-nigh a half million dollars. The total valuation this year for Sumter county is near $8,000,000, and would have considerably exceeded that amount had all property owners made returns.

DIRECTORS ARE NAMED FOR MEDICAL COLLEGE

Governor Brown yesterday sent to the senate his appointments on the board of directors of the Medical College of Georgia, at Augusta, Ga., and they were promptly confirmed.

The appointments follow: William H. Barrett, L. C. Hayne and E. H. Callaway, all of Richmond; Joseph S. Davis, of Dougherty; I. T. Irvin, Jr., of Wilkes, and P. A. Stovall, of Chatham.

The senate also confirmed the appointment of Governor Brown of Emmett McElreath to be judge of the city court of St. Marys.

SMITH DEAL HAS NOT BEEN CLOSED

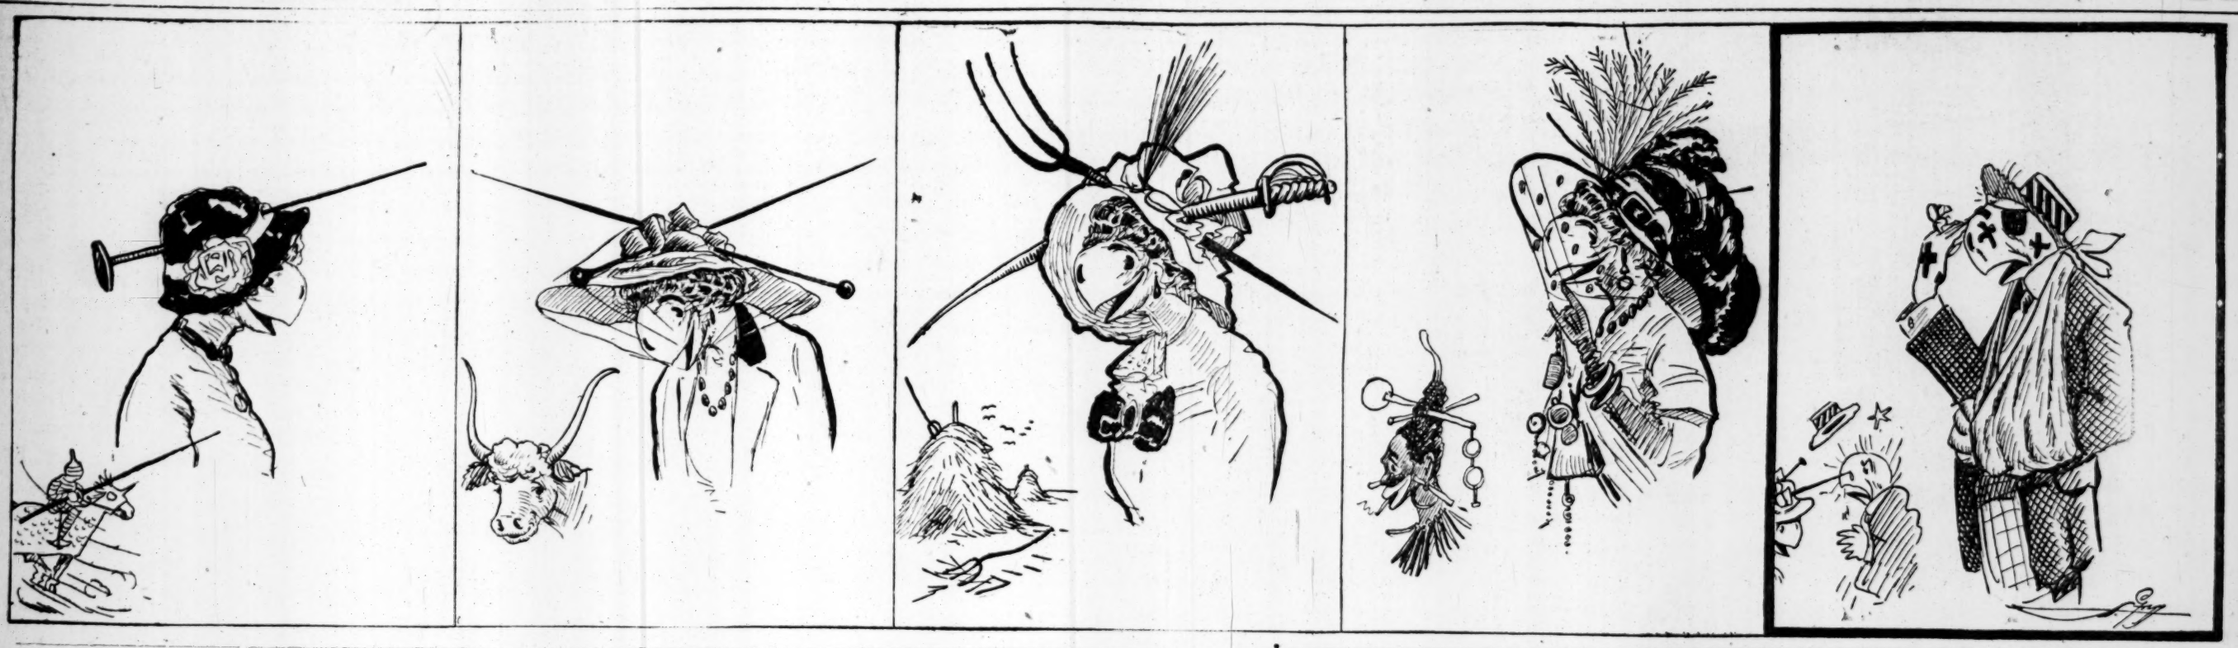
Gilly, the Gopher — (The Hat Pin Is Mightier Than the Sword) — By L. Gregg



Whiffs

A New Deck.

WHOEVER is named to manage the Atlanta team for the season of 1913 ought to be given a new deck of cards to work with. In other words, practically an entire new team. Some of the present team may do for another trial, but not all of them, in fact, hardly a third of them. Agler, Harbison, Alperman and Bailey seem to be the pick of the bunch.

Take It Slowly.

THE DIRECTORS of th Atlanta Baseball association are showing good judgment in taking their own time in the selection of a manager for 1913. There are several things that must be considered first. They are really too numerous to mention. First and foremost the man that is selected must be one whom it is known will deliver, and with the scarcity of really good managers in the game today, such a selection will be, indeed, a hard one.

Would Be Wise.

THE NAMING of Bill Smith as manager would be a wise move in several respects. If, as has been stated, the directors will appoint him, if the fans want him, then Billy ought to be the man selected for the place. The fans of this city make baseball here possible. Their attendance this season in the face of such a poor showing as the locals have made shows that they will support a baseball team. We venture to predict that the paid attendance at the local park will exceed six of the other cities in the league, even with a tail-ender. With such a showing the fans are entitled to the manager that they express a preference for, whether it be Smith, Alperman, Delahanty, Flaherty, Schaefer, Fox or who. And of the lot, we believe that they would select Smith.

Knows the Ropes.

IN NAMING Billy Smith, the directors would appoint a man who is familiar with the Southern league, its strength and weaknesses and all conditions. We would venture to predict that if Billy Smith has the financial support in 1913 that was accorded Hemphill this season he will be right up at the top of the heap. And, furthermore, Billy would be a bench manager, the most successful of all managers. The local club could look lots further and select a hundred per cent poorer man than Billy Smith.

For Next Year.

THE BARONS have practically cinched the Southern league rag, according to stories that appear in the papers throughout the league. Every city seems to be formulating plans for 1913, which is a very wise move. New players are being purchased right and left, with the Crackers the chief spenders to date, and the practical certainty that they will be at the start of next season, as the local team will have to be built from the ground up, manager included.

Watch Him Now.

KEEP your eye peeled on Ty Cobb, Speaker and Jackson have crowded too close on the Peach for the batting honors of the big leagues. Tyrus will put on full steam now, and he will make these other fellows hit at least .600 for the rest of the season to head him off. August and September are big months for the Peach in a batting way and this August and September is not going to be any exception.

Like Stovall.

THE BROWNS, of St. Louis, will not be the baseball door mat next season. The American league teams will have to wipe their feet on some other team. That is, if George Stovall has anything to do with it, and George as manager of the team will have considerable to do with it. Taking a team shot all to pieces with practically no veterans on the line-up, he has been working faithfully, until even now, they are a hard team for the leaders to lick. Derrill Pratt is proving his most formidable sticker, while in Allison and Baumgardner he has developed two corking good hurlers. His team is made up of a bunch of hustling youngster of much promise, and it stands to reason that next year they will play even better baseball, and he is strengthening daily, too. So keep your eye peeled on the Browns next year.

The Three Races.

THE RACES in the three leagues in which Atlantans are particularly interested—the Southern, American and National—are far from being settled yet. Less than 100 points separate the first and second teams and such a margin is not so great. In fact, in a series of games between the first and second teams, if the second team would win the four games in the series the complexion of the race would change mighty quickly, so do not yett all over

Fifth Straight Dropped To New Orleans Pelicans; Swindell in Fine Form

By Sam L. Gilbert.

New Orleans, August 14.— Special.)—The Crackers took another beating at the hands of the Birds today, "Josh" Swindell pitching a shut-out victory, 4 to 0.

Five straight were dropped to New Orleans by Whitey Alperman's lifeless outfit, whose lack of good pitchers made it easy for the Pels to annex. The final of the series was lost by the visitors' curving comedian "Bella" Becker, and probably the most pleasing feature was the brevity of the bout.

Walter "Doc" Johnston, the famous Birdville physician, played his last game for the locals, and left Wednesday night to join the Cleveland Naps. Mills reported and will play third, Rone being shifted to first. "Doc" and old George starred with the stick, while Alperman, Clancy and Callahan shone in fielding. Dave robbed Clancy of a three-bagger by a long backward running catch of Johnny's long drive in the fourth inning.

Becker Lucky.

Becker was lucky in the first two innings. Johnston opened with a screaming drive through the pitcher, and Stanley sacrificed, but "Doc" languished. In the second, Hendryx beat out one to short and went to third on Clancy's clean smash to right for a sack. Knaupp popped a foul to McElveen and Alperman speared Haigh's hot grounder, tagging Clancy and doubling Haigh by a neat toss to Harbison.

It remained for Josh Swindell to score the first and winning run. He bingled to left to start the third, went to second on Johnston's sacrifice and after Stanley fanned scored on Rohe's single to left, which Bailey handled poorly.

Singles by Haigh and Johnston, with Swindell's sacrifice sandwiched, netted another tally in the fifth.

Stanley's single, Rohe's three-bagger to right center and Spencer's sacrifice fly made it four in the eighth.

Swindell refused to a hit for three innings. He pinked Callahan on the shoulder to begin the third, though, and when Lyons popped one to short right center, Clancy ran back, speared it with one hand and doubled Callahan, according to field Umpire Stockdale's decision.

As a matter of fact, however, Callahan got back to first in time, because Clancy's wide throw drew Johnston off the bag and then "Doc" juggled it besides. No protest was made, to the surprise of many in the small crowd.

With two gone in the fourth, Alperman and Harbison singled. Graham's effort resulted in a force-out, Knaupp to Clancy.

Wolfe Amuses.

The Cleveland youngster, Wolfe, furnished a bit of amusement in the fifth when he opened by lacing a single to left. He glanced over his shoulder as he speeded to first and saw Spencer was letting the bingle get away from him. Wolfe immediately forgot everything except that he must make second base. He made it, but failed to touch first, and was out, Spencer to Clancy to Johnston.

In the sixth, McElveen smashed a scorcher through Johnston and was out trying for third on Alperman's blow to center. Wolfe hit to left again in the seventh after two were out. Callahan fanned.

In the eighth, Lyons went safe on Knaupp's boot and McElveen singled to right. Bailey grounded out and Alperman popped to Clancy.

Swindell wouldn't let Harbison or Graham knock the spheroid out of the infield in the ninth and ended by fanning Wolfe.

Patricia Wins.

Chicago, August 14.—Canada triumphed over the United States when the Patricia won the third straight and final race from the Chicago Yacht club's Michicago for the international trophy and championship of the great lakes. The Canadian sloop swept across the finish line at 3:23 p. m. The Michicago was three-fourths of a mile behind. The Michicago finished at 3:37.30, more than eight minutes behind the Patricia.

Gainesville Wins Two.

Gainesville, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Gainesville defeated Buford in a double-header. Gainesville made two runs in each game, while Buford made one in each. Both games were fast and snappy, two of the most interesting games that have been played this season. Features for Gainesville, pitching of Smith, pinch-hitting of H. Jordan and home run by H. Lokey; features for Buford, pitching of Robinson and fielding of Allen. Batteries: For Gainesville, Smith and McNeal; for Buford, Robinson and Allen, both games. This makes fourteen straight games. Umpires, Smith and Herault.

CRACKERS HAVE BOUGHT SCHULTZ

The Crackers have purchased Third Baseman Schultz, the star infielder of the Meridian team of the Cotton States league, for immediate delivery. He joined the Crackers in New Orleans on Wednesday.

Schultz is said to be a grand fielder and hitter and Manager Alperman may use him at the far corner in the remaining games on the present road trip.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

Peaches 3, Palmettos 2.

Macon, Ga., August 14.—Macon took the last of the series from Columbia today 3 to 2. The visitors went in the lead with two runs in the sixth. The locals came back in their half of the same inning and tied it. The winning run was counted in the eighth inning. Dashner and Martin were hurling a great pitchers' duel until the sixth, when the former began to weaken.

Albany, Ga., August 14.—Pruitt pitched a steady game for Albany today and would have won from Columbus had he not thrown it away in the seventh by a wild heave past third, which let in two runs. This tied the score. Each team made one run in the eighth and also in the tenth, and the game was called at the end of the twelfth on account of darkness, with the score 4 and 4. The features were a home run by McCay over right field fence, tying the score in the tenth, and the timely hitting of Fox.

Crackers Rest; Then Move On To Gulltown

The Crackers will enjoy a day of rest today, something which they not only need, but which may enable them to at least pull themselves together long enough to win another ball game, a novelty for them nowadays.

Friday they open up a series of games with the Mobile Gulls, the runners-up for the Southern league pennant, and this will be the last meeting between the two teams this season.

From Mobile the club moves on to Birmingham next week, and finishes the week in Montgomery, also playing the last games of the season with these two clubs.

The road trip will be concluded the following week with a series of games with the Nashville and Chattanooga teams.

Returning home, the club will play Memphis, Nashville and Chattanooga, winding up the home games for the season, and will wind up the season altogether with games in Memphis.

Frank Dessau Likes Atlanta; Would Return

The sporting editor is in receipt of a letter from Frank Dessau, the former Atlanta pitcher, now with the Kansas City team of the American association.

Without commenting on his letter, we reproduce it herewith, showing the esteem that he holds for the locals.

"Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: I fully intended writing you before this to thank you for all the 'good things' you have published about me since leaving your city. The write-up the day after my departure was good and explained my case to a 'tee.'

"As my sale was an optional one, there was a chance for me to revert to Atlanta, but I guess Carr has closed the deal. I would not object to coming back to your city as I only realize now how well we were treated there.

"I am for Atlanta and the baseball officials. I am sorry the team hasn't braced since Hemphill left. The town deserves a winner and also Messrs. Callaway, Ryan and Nunnally.

"My arm, which Hemphill said was gone, is feeling fine and strong. I have an awful time explaining why I was let out by Atlanta to the Kansas City players. They cannot understand it."

With some other comment about the race in the American association, a big boost for Sidney Smith and regards to the Atlanta fans, Dessau closes his letter.

"NO DEAL FOR MANAGER HAS YET BEEN CLOSED"

---F. E. Callaway

"There has been no deal, verbally or otherwise, closed with Manager Smith," said President Frank E. Callaway of the local baseball association, when asked regarding the report contained in a dispatch to one of the afternoon papers under a Chattanooga date line.

"Not only has there been no deal closed with Manager Smith, but there has been no deal closed with anyone," continued President Callaway. "We are considering several names for the managerial berth, but as yet we have come to no decision in the matter, and just when we will is hard to say. It all depends on circumstances. It might be shortly and it might be at the end of the season, and then again it might be in the winter. We cannot say just now."

It is understood that Billy is wild to come back to Atlanta, and the reason that he has not signed up with Chattanooga for next season is that he believes he has a chance to land the local berth. The chances are that Manager Smith did not seem in a hurry to sign with Chattanooga, and this led to the impression that he is coming back to Atlanta.

Mr. Callaway would not state just who he was diskering with.

Montgomery, Ala., August 14.—Montgomery romped on Nashville's hurlers today and won with ease, the final score being 7 to 0. Summers began the game for the visitors, but was driven from the box in the first inning. Bair was substituted and pitched good ball, but the home team found him for eight hits during the eight innings in which he worked. Paige was an enigma to the Nashville batters, and only two safe hits were marked by them during the game. Walker, a recruit from the Southeastern league, was the sensation of the day. He knocked out two three-baggers the first two times at bat.

Newborn Wins Two.

Newborn, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) Newborn defeated the Atlanta Stars in the double bill today by the scores of 10 to 3 and 11 to 4. This being the last games of the series, Newborn winning all of them, both games very one-sided, the scoring after the game became a joke with the Newborn boys. Batteries: Sams and Smith, for Newborn; Pitts and Clarke, for Atlanta Stars. Hits, off Sams 3, off Blanton 10. Second game, Pitts and Smith for Newborn and Thompson and Clark for Atlanta Stars. Hits, off Pitts 4, off Thompson 8; two-base hits, Smith, Ellison and Sams. The features of all the games were the good work of the Newborn batteries and the star fielding of Ellison and Sams.

Jim Johnston Is Hot After Stealing Mark

Jimmy Johnston, the fleet-footed centerfielder of the Birmingham Barons, is hot after the stolen-base record of the Southern league made by Diamond Joe Rickert some years ago. Seventy-seven pilfers was the mark.

Jimmy has purloined sixty-one bases to date, exceeding the mark of 1911 set by Arthur Phelan, also a Baron, but now playing third base for the Cincinnati Reds.

But to exceed the mark hung up by Rickert, Johnston will have to steal about one base a game for the remainder of the season. Jimmy got off to a bad start, but of late he has been purloining very regularly.

Southern league fans are pulling for Jimmy to accomplish the result.

ARMY MEASURE PASSES SENATE

Bacon Fails to Amend So as to Keep Soldiers Out of Foreign Lands.

Washington, August 14.—The senate at a late session tonight passed the army appropriation bill carrying $94,000,000, a bill replacing that originally passed which was vetoed by President Taft.

The new bill did not carry the provision of the original which would have legislated out of official life General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army.

An unsuccessful attempt was made by Senator Bacon to amend the appropriations so that not a dollar could be used to support the army if sent into foreign territory by the president when congress was in session without consent of congress.

Senator Bacon cited the sending of American soldiers now in China and the sending of marines at various times to Central American countries as acts of war toward neighbors too weak to resent the invasion.

"There is no law, and there never will be a law, which will prevent the commander-in-chief of the army from protecting American citizens in countries too weak to give them protection," said Senator Root in reply.

Senator Bacon, after his proposal was voted down, declared that the senate would hear more about it.

The action of the senate committee in striking out of the house bill the provisions objected to by the president and which reduced the cavalry forces, lengthened the term of enlistment and reorganized the officers of the war department was approved by the senate without roll call.

The bill was amended on the floor by providing for an appropriation of $50,000 for filling in lowlands in Fort Taylor, Pensacola, Fla.

18 AGENCIES ARE ABOLISHED

Washington, August 14.—The senate today yielded to the demands of the house for the abolition of pension agencies throughout the United States and passed the $150,000,000 pension appropriation bill with a provision for the abolishment of the agencies January 31, 1913.

The house will probably accept the senate provision regarding the abolition of the pension agencies throughout the country.

Under the senate provision, the payment of all pensions would, after the date named, be made directly from the pension bureau at Washington. At present the bureau has nothing to do with the actual payment of veterans, the checks going out through the hands of the eighteen district pension agencies. The change would abolish eighteen $4,000 jobs and result in the retirement or the removal to Washington of several hundred district clerks. A saving of about $250,000 in administration of the pension laws would follow.

D. H. Cross Badly Hurt.—D. H. Cross, an aged white man, was driving his truck wagon into town from his farm near Howell station early Wednesday morning when a work car of the Georgia Railway and Electric company smashed into it on Ashby street, breaking the old man's leg and inflicting other painful injuries. He was taken to the Atlanta hospital, where, last night, he was resting easily, but owing to his advanced age his injuries are considered serious.

HARRIMAN'S GIFT TO ROOSEVELT

How Magnate Raised $240,000 at Colonel's Request.

Ex-Gov. Odell Says Roosevelt Invited Harriman to White House, and After Visit Harriman Began Raising Money for the Campaign Fund.

Washington, August 14.—Theodore Roosevelt in 1904 invited Edward Harriman to the white house for a talk about political campaign funds, and a few days after this talk the railway financier raised $240,000 and turned it over to the republican national committee, according to declarations made today to the special senate committee of inquiry by Benjamin B. Odell, former governor of New York.

Mr. Odell's story of the Harriman contribution was so different from that told by George R. Sheldon that the committee asked for an explanation. Odell replied that Cornelius Bliss, republican treasurer in 1904, might have "told some white lies" to Mr. Sheldon, with whom he was unofficially associated. Mr. Sheldon became treasurer in the 1908 campaign. He had testified that Mr. Bliss and Mr. Harriman arranged for the contribution and that President Roosevelt did not know about it until after the election. Odell testified that of Harriman's contribution, $200,000 was spent in the New York state campaign.

Harriman Showed Roosevelt's Letter.

"In October of 1904," began Mr. Odell, under questioning, "I was requested by Mr. Harriman to lunch with him. During lunch Harriman showed me a letter from President Roosevelt asking him to come to Washington. I was chairman of the state commitete that year. Mr. Harriman asked me what I supposed the president wanted.

"I told him my opinion was that Mr. Roosevelt wanted to consult him as to New York and the financial condition of the national committee.

"Mr. Harriman said he did not want to go, but after talking it over, he told me he would go.

"Mr. Harriman came to Washington and a few days afterwards I again lunched with him," continued Mr. Odell.

"He told me that the president was anxious about the financial condition of the national committee, and would like to have Mr. Harriman's help."

Mr. Odell detailed the subsequent transactions that led up to the actual contribution of $240,000.

He Wanted $500,000.

Mr. Odell said that in 1904 an agreement was reached between himself and the national committee, represented by Mr. Cortelyou and Mr. Bliss, which provided that the committee was to give the New York state committee $500,000.

During the campaign he had received $300,000 of the amount. Then Mr. Cortelyou told him the national committee could not deliver the remainder. Mr. Odell said he was sure both state and national tickets would win, but "what embarrassed" him was that he had promised district chairmen along the Hudson and in the Long Island counties (2,300 districts containing 800,000 voters) the $200,000 "owed" him by the national committee. Mr. Harriman's contribution solved the dilemma.

CUBS V. GIANTS SERIES TODAY

Chicago, August 14.—The advance sale of seats has been heavy for the series of three games, the first of which will be played tomorrow, between New York and Chicago, leaders in the National league.

The victorious invasion of the east by the Cubs has given renewed hope to the followers of the western team. Twelve games behind the leaders when they left on the trip east, the Cubs will return from Boston tonight only six games behind, having won fifteen out of a total of eighteen games.

Marquard is scheduled to open the attack for New York, and Richie or Lavender probably will pitch for the Cubs.

One hundred supporters of the Cubs have sent a protest to President J. T. Lynch, of the National league, against his action in suspending John Evers for five days. They ask for the immediate reinstatement of Evers, in order that he may play in the series with New York beginning tomorrow.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Under this head, the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: What is Jim Brady's pitching average?
H. R. R.

Won 7, lost 10; percentage .412.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Where will Atlanta play and with whom on Labor day?
C. E. B.

At home with Memphis.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor The Constitution: Tell me your opinion of Speaker and Jackson as ball players, in both fielding and batting? Also, which has been in professional baseball the longer?
A. F.

Both are grand fielders and batters, with Speaker the better in both departments. Ty Cobb is the only outfielder who has anything on either one of them. Speaker has been in the game longer than Jackson.

By George L. Moreland.

August 15.

1886—Guy Hecker, Louisville, made three home runs and three singles off Dick Conway, of the Baltimores.

1889—Thomas J. Lynch, now president of National league, was umpire in a game between Cleveland and Boston, which the Westerners won 19-8, they making 27 hits for a total of 48 bases off Mike Madden. Larry Twitchell, in seven times at bat, made a single, a double and three homers, and scored five runs.

1893—Roaring Bill Kennedy, Brooklyn, held the New York Giants to one safety.

1894—Tom McCarthy and Bob Lowe, Boston, made a triple play against Pittsburg.

1895—Baltimore won a 15-inning game from Boston by a score of 11-10.

1895—Phillies hammered Jouett Meekin and George Van Haltren, New York, for 26 hits for a total of 44 bases. Sam Thompson made two home runs and two singles, while George Davis, playing with the losers, had six hits, including a double and a triple.

1908—Chicago White Sox conquered Washington 5-3 in 15 innings, Walsh pitching against Smith and Keeley.

1910—Chicago Cubs routed Brooklyn 14-0.

AMERICAN CONSUL IS SHOT TO DEATH

Bogota, Colombia, August 14.—Foul play is suspected by Americans here to have been connected with the death of William B. MacMaster, the American vice and deputy consul at Cartagena, whose body, riddled with gunshot, was found a few miles outside of that city last Monday.

The vice consul, according to advices received here, had started out on a hunting trip the day before, and when he did not return a searching party was organized. An examination of the body showed that death had been caused by the gunshot wounds.

The authorities of Cartagena, which is a Colombian seaport on the Carribean and the capital of the department of Bolivar, are investigating the case.

The tragedy recalls the attempt made against the life of Mr. MacMaster three years ago, when he was attacked by two Colombians and stabbed several times in the head, face and abdomen while in charge of the Cartagena consulate.

United States to Investigate.

Washington, August 14.—Confirmation of the violent death of Vice Consul MacMaster came to the state department from the American legation at Bogota. Leland Harrison, in charge, reported that Mr. MacMaster was killed by a gunshot wound while hunting about ten miles from Cartagena; that the body was found August 12, the day after death. The charge adds that the local authorities are conducting a careful investigation.

It was said at the state department that the report of the government investigation must be awaited before the department took action.

Mr. MacMaster was killed last Sunday "while hunting," according to the report to the state department. An attack upon his life two years ago and the strain imposed upon his relations with the Colombian judicial authorities, because of his efforts to punish the would-be assassins, excites the suspicion of officials here as to the cause of his death.

About two years ago, because he had killed a native in self-defense, MacMaster was attacked by several Colombians and dangerously wounded. He was arrested on te charge of murder and, though acquitted by a lower court, was found guilty and sentenced to imprisonment by an appellate tribunal. The United States government intervened and secured a new trial, which resulted in his acquittal in June, 1910, but he has ever since been fearful of furtner violence.

Mr. MacMaster was born in Colombia of American parents in 1875. He was educated in the United States.

Second Baptist Services.—James C. Maury, of Harvard university, will preach at the Second Baptist church Sunday. At 11 a. m. the subject will be, "The Power of Consecration"; at 7 p. m., "The Christian Secret of Happiness." Visitors and strangers in the city, as well as the general public, are cordially invited.

PAY ME FOR CURES ONLY

If you have been taking treatment for weeks and months and paying out your hard earned money without being cured, don't you think it is high time to accept DR. HUGHES' GRAND OFFER?

You will certainly not be out any more money if not cured. Consultation and Examination is Free for the next thirty days.

If I decide that your condition will not yield readily to my treatment, I will be honest with you and tell you so, and not accept your money under a promise of a cure.

My treatment will positively cure or I will make you no charge for the following diseases:

KIDNEY, BLADDER AND URINARY TROUBLE, STRICTURE, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, RUPTURE, ULCERS and SKIN DISEASES, CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISONING, Eczema, Rheumatism, Catarrhal Affections, Piles and Fistula and all Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

Newly Contracted and Chronic Cases of Burning, Itching and Inflammation stopped in 24 hours. I am against high and extortionate fees charged by some physicians and specialists. My fees are reasonable and no more than you are willing to pay for a cure. All medicines, the purest and best of drugs, are supplied from my own private laboratory. OUT-OF-TOWN MEN VISITING THE CITY, consult me at once upon arrival, and maybe you can be cured before returning home. Many cases can be cured in one or two visits.

CALL OR WRITE—No detention from business. Treatment and advice confidential. Hours, 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. Sunday, 9 to 1. If you can't call, write and give me full description of your case in your own words. A complete consultation costs you nothing, and if I can help you, I will.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The first regular monthly banquet of the Atlanta Real Estate Men's association under the administration of the new officers will be held in Durand's cafe Friday evening at 7 o'clock. The cards were sent out Wednesday and a large attendance is expected. M. L. Thrower will be the host of the occasion and several prominent realty men will speak.

Important matters will come up in the business session which will be held after the dinner. The practicability of a number of changes which will organize the association into a more business-like body will be taken up.

Important among these changes is the proposition to change the name of the association to the Atlanta Real Estate board and convert the organization into a real estate exchange, such as is operated successfully in many large cities. This plan includes the renting of an office for the association and engaging an assistant secretary at a salary who will have charge. This office will receive limited listings from the members of the association.

Another proposition which will come before the meeting is to ask the newspapers to publish the advertisements of the members of the association in a special space and under a special caption at the top of each page.

In view of the important business to be transacted every member is urged to be present.

South Georgia Progresses.

In view of the great material progress which is now being made in Atlanta, it is interesting to note that these improvements are not limited to Atlanta alone, but the same conditions apply to the farming districts of the entire state. A concrete example is found in a letter which was recently received by a prominent Atlanta agency from a client who has just located. An extract from the letter follows:

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

"I will give you some idea of what I have to do.

"I have to look over a place that contains nearly 4,000 acres. It is about 26 miles around. I have thirty tenants, and about 150 men, women and kids working. About 50 mules, 14 oxen, 250 pigs, 10 cows and a whole yard full of chickens and turkeys.

"It takes me about two days to see the clearing force, the tree force, the ditching force, the farm force and the construction force. When night comes I am usually ready to turn in.

"I am a regular sager. I have about 456 acres planted in hog feed, corn, peanuts, velvet beans, chufas and potatoes. I have about 350 tons of hay to gather and this is some crop, as it is now selling for $25 per ton. I am putting up a steam hay drier. I will have it working next week. If she goes all right, I will plant about 2,000 acres of peas next year.

"Well, I hung to the horse until the last ditch was passed, and then bought a gas buggy. Have got to be some driver. Started out never to go over 20 miles an hour, but now nothing in town can pass me. Made a trip to Albany a short time ago and broke all records—especially for dogs, hogs and chickens. The best speed I have been able to get out of this boat of mine was a little better than the speedometer would register.

"This is a good, quiet, sleepy old town, but with 45,000 pecan trees to look after, 25,000 to plant this winter and 250,000 trees in the nursery to bud and graft, there is little idle time for your uncle.

"The fish are not biting well. The town went dry and no bait can be had."

U. S. MARINES ARE UNDER FIRE

Rebels Continue to Bombard the Capital of Nicaragua.

Managua, Nicaragua, August 14.—The bombardment of the Nicaraguan capital by the revolutionary forces under the command of Generals Mena and Zeledon, which began Sunday, continued today. Some of the shells from the rebel guns struck inside the city in the vicinity of the United States legation and the president's residence.

The detachment of bluejackets and marines stationed in the city has displayed great gallantry under fire. They are commanded by Lieutenant Campbell.

Several attempts by the rebels to capture the city have been repulsed by the government troops.

The government is endeavoring to recapture Granada.

ROSSVILLE GETS MAIL BY AEROPLANE ROUTE

Residents of Rossville, a small town in north Georgia, just across the Tennessee line from Chattanooga, are being entertained by daily aeroplane flights. Two Georgia boys have recently purchased an aeroplane and are making daily practice flights. They intend to "make" the county fairs of the state this summer and fall.

One of the Chattanooga newspapers has engaged the young aviators to deliver issues of the paper to Rossville residents and the Georgians up there claim they are the first people in the world to have their newspapers delivered daily by aeroplane.

Watermelon and Ice Cream.—The ladies of St. Anthony's church, Gordon street and Ashby, West End, are arranging for a big watermelon cutting and ice cream festival at Howell park, West End, Thursday afternoon and evening, for the benefit of the church treasury. Mrs. Bridwell, Mrs. Gavan, Mrs. Stephenson and Miss Henfield Masselling form the committee in charge, under the direction of Father Jackson, and together with the young ladies of the parish they will see that every visitor is abundantly served and pleasantly entertained. In the afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock, the park will be turned over to the children of the parish, while the evening hours will be given up to the grown folks.

MUSIC FESTIVAL OPENS TONIGHT

Big Event at Auditorium, Fine Chorus, Noted Soloists. Heavy Advance Sale.

The first great passion play of the negro race, a remarkable drama showing their history from paganism to modern times, will be presented tonight at the Auditorium with the most ambitious cast and scenic equipment ever attempted at such a performance.

The soloists are singers of national repute, endowed with voices of the finest quality and power. The Fisk Jubilee Singers are widely known for the melody of their work. Patti Brown, colaura-soprana, and Henry T. Burleigh, the composer-baritone, are three soloists who rank high as artists.

There has been a heavy advance sale, and the audience will include many well-known white citizens, for whom a thousand choice seats have been been reserved. Tickets may be secured at the Cable company and at Phillips & Crew. Two other features will conclude the festival—the organ recital Friday afternoon at the First Congregational church, and the grand concert Friday night at the Auditorium.

Tonight's program is as follows:

Fifth Regiment orchestra (before the opening of the drama and between the acts and scenes).

Before the Curtain (Sphinx and Pyramids). Poem, "Ode to Ethiopia," Selena Sloane Butler.

Act 1. Paganism.

Scene 1. An African Village, Fisk Jubilee Singers. Scene 2. An African coast poem, "The Freedom of the Free" (Brawley), Selena Sloane Butler. Scene 3. The Dutch Slave Ship, the Fisk Jubilee Singers.

Act 3. Slavery.

Scene 1. The Slave Market. "Suwanee River," Patti Brown. Scene 2. The Plantation, Jubilee Singers. Scene 3. Battle Scene. Poem, "The Colored Soldier" (Dunbar), Selena Sloane Butler. "Yankee Doodle," and "Dixie," orchestra. "Battle Hymn of the Republic," Patti Brown and chorus.

Act 3. Freedom.

Scene 1. The Home. Piano solo, Roy W. Tibbs. Solo, "Home, Sweet Home," Patti Brown. Scene 2. The School. "Swing Song," by 100 school girls. College songs, by Jubilee Singers and others. Scene 3. The Church. Processional, "O Mother Dear, Jerusalem," and chorus, "By the Waters of Babylon."

"ATLANTA GOODS" SHOW INSPIRES CHATTANOOGA

Manufacturers of Chattanooga are planning a big exposition on the order of the one given Atlanta-made goods the first ten days of this month.

They have written local parties asking for information concerning the local event, and Frank Weldon, managing director of the enterprise, will be asked to give what information is available. During the exposition two special trains were run from the Tennessee city to Atlanta, and many persons came down to visit the display.

The Chattanooga Manufacturers' association is now adding three stories to their building on Broad street, and it is probable that the exposition will be given as a formal opening of their new home.

ATLANTA LIVE STOCK MARKET

(By W. H. White, Jr., of White Provision Co.)

Quotations based on actual purchases during the current week:

Good to choice steers, 1,000 to 1,200, $5.75 to $6.75.

Good steers, 800 to 1,000, $5.25 to $5.75.

Medium to good steers, 700 to 850, $4.75 to $5.25.

Good to choice beef cows, 800 to 900, $4.50 to $4.75.

Medium to good beef cows, 700 to 800, $3.75 to $4.25.

Good to choice heifers, 750 to 850, $4.00 to $4.75.

Medium to good heifers, 650 to 750, $3.75 to $4.50.

The above represents ruling prices of good quality of beef cattle. Inferior grades and dairy types selling lower.

Medium to common steers, if fat, 700 to 800, $4.00 to $4.50.

Medium to common cows, if fat, 600 to 700, $3.50 to $4.00.

Mixed common, 600 to 800, $2.75 to $3.50.

Good butcher bulls, $3.00 to $3.75.

Prime hogs, 160 to 200 average, $7.75 to $8.25.

Good butcher hogs, 140 to 160 average, $7.50 to $8.00.

Heavy rough hogs, 200 to 250 average, $7.00 to $7.50.

Above quotations apply to corned hogs. Mash and peanut fattened hogs, 1 to ½ cents lower.

Good run of medium cattle in yard this week, although the supply of strictly good beef is short. Several mixed loads of Tennessee cattle were among the arrivals first of week. A few good steers were selected from these cars and brought the top prices for this week.

Grass cattle are coming more plentiful from local points, quality not yet up to standard. Owing to heavy rain fall this season grass has contained too much moisture and grazing cattle are not yet fat.

Market is considered strong to 1-4 higher on better grades and about steady on medium stuff. Light and common cattle are slow sale 1-4 to 3-8 under quotation of a week ago.

Lamb market about steady, supply normal, quality continues fairly good.

Hog receipts moderate, market strong and higher.

A number of steers were sold for $10 or better. This class of stock is now at the highest level ever reached here. Sellers are of the opinion that the prime steers will reach $11 before there is any check.

Leesburg's First Bale.

Leesburg, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) The first bale of this year's cotton marketed in Lee county was placed on the market this morning by Messrs. Stovall & Yeomans, leading merchants, and was promptly sold by them to the Planters Warehouse company at 18 cents per pound, a remarkably good price.

ATLANTA MAN TESTIFIES

Atlanta, Ga., May 23, 1912.

The Milam Medicine Company, Inc., Danville, Va.

Gentlemen: I am writing you an unsolicited testimonial as to what I think of your splendid medicine, known as Milam.

I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for more than twenty-five years in the form of Gout. Have used hundreds of the various patent and other medicines that were said to be a permanent cure for my disease, and have had the attention of some of the finest physicians in this whole country, who tried to cure me, but the cure was only effected, and when weather changes came, my Rheumatism came back with it, and I was no better than before taking my treatment.

In March last I heard of your Milam through a friend of mine and he recommended it so highly that I resolved to try it, and ordered several bottles from the Jacobs Pharmacy Company, of this city, and commenced to take it. I had taken only two bottles when I discovered the good it was doing for me. Since then I have faithfully continued taking it, and I am now on my tenth bottle and I hope when I finish about two more I will be able to say I am for the first time in twenty-five years, a well man again.

My confidence was assured in your medicine after taking the fifth bottle, and I discovered that changes of the weather did not any longer bring my old pains back to me. I shall continue to take it, even after I regard myself well, as I feel that it is such a tonic that can do no harm and at the same time may be of incalculable benefit to any constitution that may need building up.

I am an old commercial traveler, known North, East, South and West, and am sending you this (as I said) unsolicited testimonial, so that it may be a benefit to many afflicted as I have been for so many years and I trust it may help them as it has me.

Faithfully yours,
JOHN F. EVERS.

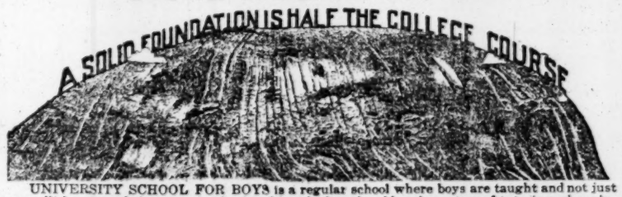
UNIVERSITY SCHOOL FOR BOYS

STONE MOUNTAIN, GA.



UNIVERSITY SCHOOL FOR BOYS is a regular school where boys are taught and not just compelled to attend classes. A school fashioned after the old style system of tutoring where individual instruction is given each student; where the finer attributes of a gentleman, not taught by books, are inculcated; where a sound, healthy body is developed coincident with a broad, quick mind.

A school where boys are transformed into men equipped, mentally and physically to take up Life's duties or given a firm foundation on which to build their education in the higher institutions or learning. This is done by limiting the students to 96; one instructor for every ten boys.

More than Twenty per cent. of the student body, each year, are brothers of former students

ACTIVE DEMAND SENT COTTON UP

Market Closed Firm at Net Advance of 17 to 20 Points.

New York, August 14.—After losing part of yesterday's rally during today's early trading, the cotton market firmed up, on quite an active demand from shorts or fresh buyers, and closed firm at a net advance of 17 to 20 points.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 4 points, in sympathy with better cables than expected, but with the weather reported favorable over the greater part of the south and with many of yesterday's buyers considering that the rally from the low point of yesterday had been sufficient, prices soon weakened, under realizing and a renewal of bear pressure. Some of the leading trade interests were sellers on the decline, which soon carried prices off to a net loss of from 11 to 15 points. At this level, however, the market received good support, and it was rumored that domestic mills were buying contracts against their next year's requirements on the breaks. At any rate, prices rallied and during the middle of the day the market worked steadily higher on covering of shorts and a rather more confident demand from reactionists or fresh buyers. Realizing by early buyers for a turn checked the upward movement at 11.61 for December, or 22 points above the closing figures of yesterday, and fully half a cent a pound above the low records of yesterday morning, but only slight declines occurred and the market closed within a point or two of the best. Unfavorable private crop reports from the extreme southwest and from some points in the eastern belt were circulated during the day, and in connection with the talk that domestic mills were entering the market were supposed to have helped the advance. Some of the leading spot brokers were reported to have been sellers, but other trade interests were buyers.

A private crop report made the condition 77.7 against 78.6 on July 20, and the government report of 76.5 as of July 25.

Receipts, 4,013, against 1,214 last week and 7,346 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston, 2,805, against 6,833 last year; at New Orleans, 375, against 369 last year, and at Houston, 4,879, against 6,354 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 12c; middling gulf, 12.25; sales, 19 bales.

Members of the cotton exchange voted today to close the exchange August 31, the Saturday preceding Labor day.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, August 14.—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 1 point up, compared with the close of yesterday. Offers were favorable, but were balanced by good weather reports from the belt. Immediately after the call the trading months were 1 to 2 points up, but a short selling increased in volume, being based to a large extent on good crop accounts from Texas, and the market fell off. The forecast of unsettled and showery weather in the western half of the cotton region, also worked against prices. At the end of the first half hour of business, prices were 5 to 7 points under yesterday's final quotations.

A private crop reporting bureau report on the condition of the crop, showing a moderate deterioration for the last month, in place of the gain that many bears seemed to expect, caused a buying wave to develop and from the middle of the morning on, both sides bought in rather a large way. Offerings were all absorbed and the market gradually acquired a very steady tone. At noon, the trading months were 4@10 points over the closing level of yesterday.

In the afternoon, the market had a good undertone. Steady buying put prices 21 to 22 points over yesterday's close in the trading up to 2 o'clock.

Cotton futures closed strong at a net advance of 24 to 26 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, August 14.—The cotton goods markets at first hands were quiet with a softening tendency in print cloth yarn constructions. Jobbers are applying themselves steadily in jobbers stock. Dress goods buying and knit goods are active.

a-Minimum temperatures are for 12-hour period ending at 8 a. m. this date. b-Received late, not included in averages. x-Highest yesterday. x-Lowest for 24 hours ending 8 a. m. 75th meridian time.

NOTE—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitation from the number of stations reporting 0.10 inch or more. The "state of weather" is that prevailing at time of observation.

Remarks.

Scattered showers are reported from a few stations in Mississippi, Louisiana, North Carolina and the southern portion of Georgia. Seasonable and stationary temperatures continue.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, August 14.—The market today has manifested a better tone than recently, which is due to the fact that spinners have absorbed a good many contracts in the neighborhood of 11 cents. While spot houses sold early, their offerings were less aggressive, which left speculative interests the principal source of supply and the latter provided a good demand in the afternoon upon the receipt of reports of worm damage in Alabama. South and southwest Texas are also complaining of the want of rain and helped the improvement in prices.

Groceries.

Chicago, August 14.—Flour, steady.

St. Louis, August 14.—Flour, steady. Hay steady; timothy, $12.00@18.00; prairie, $11.00@16.00.

STOCKS SHOWED MUCH STRENGTH

Many of Them Reached the Highest Prices of the Year.

New York, August 14.—Taking today's highest quotations as a basis, the general average of prices in the stock exchange was the highest of the year. This was mainly due to the strength of a number of specialties of the semi-active class, whose recent advances have been proportionately greater than those recorded by the speculative favorites.

As a matter of fact, however, many of the better known securities, including Steel, made their best prices of the year today, while Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper, Smelting and other active issues were higher than at any period in several months. The activity and strength of the metal securities was concurrent with intimations that another advance in the price of copper is about due. These reports gained credence from the situation abroad, where a better inquiry for copper is reported.

Steel's rise, followed by that of the independent steel companies, was naturally associated with President Taft's message to congress vetoing the steel bill.

Best prices were shaded slightly in the later dealings, when business after the recent manner of things on the exchange fell away materially. Fully one-third of the day's fairly large operations were transacted in the first hour, when some 250,000 shares changed hands. Taking the day as a whole, the movement was largely in unimportant issues with some signs of liquidation in those stocks, which recently made greater gains.

London again operated extensively in this market, but purchases and sales were so evenly balanced as to leave the net result in doubt.

Bonds were firm with a wide distribution of business. Total sales, par value, $2,685,000. Government bonds were unchanged on call.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, August 14.—Close: cotton spot in limited demand, prices 10@12 points higher; American middling fair, 7.52; good middling, 7.12; middling, 6.72; low middling, 6.48; good ordinary, 6.00; ordinary, 5.52. The sales of the day were 5,000 bales, of which 500 were for speculation and export and included 4,600 American. No receipts. Futures opened firm and closed steady.

Coffee.

New York, August 14.—Coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 8 to 12 points, in sympathy with lower European cables, and sold off during the day under local offerings in the absence of any important support. Reports of any further news to come in following the recent cables reporting unfavorably on the new crop outlook, together with increasing receipts and reports of slack trade, probably encouraged some of the selling. The close was steady at a net decline of 14 to 18 points. Sales, 101,000 bags.

Spot, steady; Rio sevens, 14¼; Santos fours, 15¾; mild, quiet; Cordova, 16@17¾.

Havre, ½ to ¾ franc lower. Hamburg, ¾ to 1 pfg lower. Rio, 75 reis lower at 8$100. Santos, 100 reis higher; fours, 7$900; sevens, 7$200.

Brazilian port receipts, 55,000, against a holiday last year.

Jundiahy receipts, 45,000 against a holiday last year.

Sao Paulo receipts, 54,000, against 49,000 yesterday.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, August 14.—After opening at about the same level as yesterday's close, the market eased off during the first hour. This was not a true market movement, however, and looked more like an attempt to make a better buying basis, for after the first hour there was a very good undertone and the close was firm at a net advance for the day of 17 to 20 points. It was not a wildly excited market and the decline has now been checked for the time being at least. The weather continues fairly favorable and the cotton world is disposed to believe that the crop was never in as bad shape a sit once thought that it was. Still 11¼ cents is not a high price, everything considered, and after such a wild decline there should be more of an advance than has yet been seen.

Liverpool is due to come 13½ to 14½ points up in the morning.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

PRICES WEAKER IN GRAIN MARKET

Fine Crop Weather Main Factor in the Decline—Provisions Strong.

Chicago, August 14.—Grain prices were weaker today, a factor in the decline being fine crop weather. Cash demand was negligible and stronger. Early cables failed to hold the market. The close was generally steady on the lower levels, with wheat ¼c to ¾c off. Last trades left corn ⅛c to 7-8c lower and oats 3-8c to ½c lower. Provisions advanced with a demand, closing 5c to 7½c higher.

Lack of buying was noticeable in wheat. Cables, largely based on unpromising European crop condition, were higher and were reflected in the early trading by upward prices. The uniformly favorable weather reports, coupled with a lessened cash and export demand, crowded the figures down. The more distant as well as the nearby futures felt the force of the decline. Prices crept slightly away from the low point in the last hour. The close was steady. September ranged between 93 3-8 and 92 5-8c, final figures being ¾c lower at 93c. December touched 93 3-8c and 92½c, and finished 5-8@¾c lower at 92¼@92 3-8c.

The wheat market was reflected in corn, an early advance being swallowed up later by a steady attack on prices all along the line. Repeated reports of ideal weather in the corn belt, indicating vast improvement in the prospect, helped along the decline. Country sales of both the old and new crop were larger and the eastern demand shrank somewhat. The close was steady, slightly removed from the bottom level. December traveled between 55⅝c and 53 7-8c, closed ¾@7-8c lower at 54@54⅛c. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 77½@78.

Large receipts and a moderate demand gave a downward trend to oats prices. The close was firm and near to the lowest points. Outside limits for December were 32 7-8c and 32⅜c, with last prices ½@5-8c lower, at 32¼c.

Provisions were active from the start, with generous trading. Commission houses were busy buyers much of the time. A moderate run of live hogs at the packing centers at slightly advanced prices helped values. The close was strong. October products finished: Pork, $18.12½; 76c higher; lard, $10.90, 7½c up, and ribs $10.87½@10.90, 5@7½c higher.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, August 14.—In answer to our advance yesterday and the appearance of the American spinner as a large buyer, Liverpool advanced some 16 points. This advance was accepted as too good to hold, and those who expected lower prices were quick to supply the demand abroad. Thus Liverpool lost the greater portion of the improvement, but our market was at no time as weak as yesterday. When poor crop advices were received from central and southern Texas, Alabama and the Atlantic states a demand came from those who have been following the larger spot houses. There was also little more spinner buying, but not on the advance, because the spinners are impressed with the advice to wait, although they have now the best profits in sight for several years. In the last two hours there was heavy buying, though it is not thought the larger interests are disturbed. Unless, however, crop accounts become better it will be difficult to prevent the spinning and speculative demand from increasing.

Liverpool should come about 14½ points higher in the morning.

CONFEREES AGREE ON CANAL MEASURE

Brandegee and Stevens Refuse to Sign Report.

Washington, August 14.—An agreement on the Panama canal administration bill was reached by the conference committee of the house and senate today, by which free passage is denied to American-owned ships engaged in foreign trade, foreign shipbuilding materials are admitted free of tariff to the United States, and the interstate commerce commission is given power to break up any combinations of competing rail and water lines which it finds are not for "the public good."

Two of the six members of the conference committee, Senator Brandegee and Representative Frederick C. Stevens, of Minnesota, declined to sign the report. Those who did attach their names to the agreement were Senators Bristow and Simmons and Representatives Adamson and Sims.

Provisions of the Bill.

As perfected in the conference committee, the canal bill now provides in brief:

Free passage for American coastwise ships.

American registry for American-owned foreign-built ships engaged exclusively in foreign trade.

No tariff on foreign shipbuilding materials for use in this country.

Trust-owned ships prohibited from using the canal.

Railroads prohibited from owning competing waterway lines operating "through the canal or elsewhere," when such ownership is detrimental to the public welfare.

Interstate commerce commission authorized to investigate control of water lines by railroads and sanction it where it is beneficial.

One-man government for Panama canal and zone.

The conference agreement will be reported to the house and senate tomorrow and it is believed that it will be subject to some opposition before it is agreed to.

In dropping out the senate amendment giving free passage to American ships engaged in foreign trade, the conference committee met the opposition of those who considered this a direct violation of the treaty with Great Britain.

Free Ship Materials.

The senate amendment admitting foreign-built ships to American registry, when owned by Americans, was supplemented with the provision admitting shipbuilding material free of tariff, to meet the opposition of house members who claimed the American shipbuilding industry would otherwise suffer.

Practically all of the force of the Bourne railroad amendment attached to the bill in the senate, was retained by the conferees. It was rewritten to give the interstate commerce commission the right to determine whether railroads should be allowed to hold water lines, and to sanction such ownership when it was in the public interest.

The railroad section of the bill is drastic in its terms, and broad in the powers it confers on the interstate commerce commission. It prohibits railroads, after July 1, 1914, from owning or controlling competing steamer lines "operating through the Panama canal or elsewhere"; and gives to the interstate commerce commission the power to determine whether the railroad and steamship lines are competing carriers, within the meaning of the law.

W. A. WAGGONER 20 YEARS WITH RAILROAD Y. M. C. A.

W. A. Waggoner today completes his twentieth year of service with the Railroad Young Men's Christian association, and the event will be celebrated with an enthusiastic meeting, for which a fine program has been arranged. There will be musical and literary numbers, various prominent railroad men will take part and G. K. Roper, of New York, one of the international railroad secretaries, will take part.

Mr. Waggoner has done much to build up the local railroad association and has worked to make it grow from a weak and struggling beginning to its present position of security and influence. Commodious quarters are furnished the members at 31½ East Alabama street and the association is active in work among young railroad men. Mr. Waggoner is widely known in association work and has many friends to congratulate him today.

TAFT'S VETO IS OVERIDDEN

sustained Mr. Underwood. Mr. Mann promptly appealed from the ruling and demanded a roll call. The chair's position was sustained, 241 to 10.

Cannon Knocks G. O. P. Insurgents.

Defection of the republican progressives in the house angered former Speaker Cannon. In the course of an attack on the proposal to repeat the wool bill veto performance he spoke in bitter terms.

"They may call themselves republicans," he thundered, his clenched fists upraised, "but I am not one of them."

"Thank God," retorted one of the insurgents amid laughter and applause from the democratic side.

Majority Leader Underwood made a spirited attack on motives that prompted President Taft to veto the bill, which, he said, had been passed by a republican senate with but two slight amendments. He referred to the president's explanation that changes had been made in the schedule as it was presented to him last year and congress had vouchsafed no explanation for those changes.

"A statement of that kind in a great public document is not only lamentable, but it is pitiable," said Mr. Underwood. "He vetoes a public measure because in the lapse of a year's time the congress of the United States had determined to change the rates in that bill, and having not communicated to him our reasons for the change of rates in the two bills, forsooth it must receive his veto.

"Any man of intelligence or any man of conscience, any man having respect for himself, would not send to the congress of the United States that statement as a reason for defeating the will of the American people as expressed by their representatives in congress."

Underwood Stirred to Wrath.

Mr. Underwood explained that the bill imposed a duty of approximately 22 per cent on steel products and that 10 per cent would cover the difference in the cost of labor at home and abroad. This statement was combated by republican leaders. Mr. Cannon charged the democrats with "playing politics" in pressing the vote and aroused Mr. Underwood's ire by declaring that the majority leader would be the most disappointed man of all if the bill should become a law. Mr. Underwood resented having his sincerity questioned and retorted sharply.

As an added chapter to the tariff program on the floor, Mr. Underwood announced to the house failure of house conferees to reach any agreement with the senate on the sugar tariff revision measure. The house voted to send the bill back to conference with instructions that the house conferees refuse to agree to the senate amendments.

The debate of the cotton bill in the senate was short. The amendment offered by Senator La Follette was identical with the bill presented in the house by Representative Hill, of Connecticut, and which then received the support of the majority of the republicans. Senator La Follette declared it represented an actual reduction of 2 per cent lower on the average than the democratic bill. His substitute received only 14 votes, however, and the progressives then joined the democrats in passing the house bill.

Why Taft Vetoed.

In his message vetoing the steel revision bill President Taft said he disapproved the measure because it provided for revenue only, and took no account of protection for American industries. He condemned the ways and means committee for refusing public hearings on the bill. His veto was expected.

Mr. Taft gave as another reason for his veto that the bill affected not only the iron and steel industry, but also 59 allied industries which he said were worthy of separate classification. Mr. Taft wrote he was not prepared to say there were no items in the steel schedule which might not well be reduced, but he pointed out that its ad valorem rate of duty was an apparent reduction of 15 per cent from the duties of the Wilson law.

Hasty Methods Charged.

"A bill for a complete revision of this schedule was presented to me a year ago in the extra session of this congress," wrote the president. "Many increases and decreases of rates are now made from those named in the former measure. The changes are not explained, and indicate the hasty method pursued in the preparation in both. Is it not fair to ask either on the basis of protection or revenue which was right?

"On the whole, therefore, I am not willing to approve of legislation of this kind, which vitally affects not only millions of the workingmen and families dependent on them, but hundreds of millions of dollars worth of stocks of goods in the hands of storekeepers and distributors generally, without first providing for a careful and disinterested inquiry into the conditions of the whole industry. From the outset of my administration I have urged a revision of the tariff based on a non-partisan study of the facts. I have provided the means for securing such information in the appointment of a tariff board. Their thorough work, already completed on several schedules, has justified my confidence in this method. The principle is indorsed by chambers of commerce and boards of trade in almost every city of importance in the country. The proposed bill has not been framed on the basis of any such study of the industry.

Only Revenue Sought.

"Avowedly its rates are fixed with no consideration of anything but revenue. The principle of protection is disregarded entirely, and therefore it is not too much to say that the effect of these sweeping changes on the welfare of those engaged in these varied industries has been disregarded."

The president has said he also will veto the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill carrying riders to abolish the commerce court and limit tenure of office of civil service employees to seven years. By doing so the president would hold up his own salary, that of every member of congress and every employee of the United States courts. Speculation of the possibilities of passing the bill over his veto are being discussed, and leaders are canvassing the house and senate.

JUDGE JACKSON'S TRIAL SET FOR THIS MORNING

The trial of Judge Robert R. Jackson, charged with having stolen jewels in his possession which were taken in the celebrated "trunk robbery," will come up for hearing this morning, at 10:30 o'clock, in Judge Ridley's court. The trial was set for 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, but at the request of the Pinkerton men, on account of the absence from the city of Mr. Pierce, of the local Pinkerton office, and Soloman Gilsey, of the firm whose jewels were stolen, the trial was continued.

MORTUARY

He is survived by three sons, two daughters, four brothers and three sisters. The funeral and interment will take place tomorrow at Chattanooga. The deceased had large family connections in north Georgia and was a prominent farmer of Floyd county.

John T. Gay, LaGrange.

LaGrange, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—The funeral of James T. Gay was held Wednesday afternoon from the family residence, 92 Harwell avenue, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. Mr. Gay, who was well known and beloved about the city, was a man of high moral character and greatly esteemed locally, although he had only lived in htis city nine years, coming here from Fredonia, Chambers county, Alabama. Rev. Dr. Ledbetter, of the First Methodist church, conducted the funeral services, and interment was had in Hill View cemetery.

Miss Della Adams.

Rome, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Miss Della Adams, aged 24 years, died at her home in the seventh ward this morning at 7 o'clock after a lingering illness. She leaves two brothers and four sisters to mourn her death.

Miss Adams was a consistent member of the Baptist church. The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, conducted by Rev. C. W. Rowe. The interment will take place in Antioch cemetery.

Mrs. J. A. Stith, Palmetto.

Palmetto, Ga., August 14.—(Special.) Mrs. J. A. Stith died at her home here tonight at 7 o'clock. The deceased, who was the daughter of the late A. S. Whitaker, of Asheville, S. C., is survived by her husband, one son, E. D. Stith; one daughter, Mrs. Charles Jackson; one sister, Mrs. John Gatlin, and two brothers, C. R. Whitaker and L. D. Whitaker. The funeral will be held in the local Methodist church at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Captain W. P. Manley.

The funeral of Captain W. P. Manley, former chief of police, who died Tuesday night, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the chapel of Greenberg & Bond, Rev. A. T. Spalding officiating. Interment will be in Oakland. He is survived by his wife and one son, and was a member of the Masons and Odd Fellows.

James G. Ramsey.

James G. Ramsey, 69 years old, died Wednesday morning at the residence, 41 Oglethorpe avenue. He is survived by his wife and six children, H. M. Ramsey, Aeneas Ramsey, Paul Ramsey, Miss Mell Ramsey, Mrs. H. G. Henderson, and Mrs. W. E. Kelly, and by one brother, S. H. Ramsey, Sumter, S. C. He was a gallant member of the confederate army during the war, and he personally selected the pallbearers from among members of the local camp, U. C. V., including General Andrew J. West, C. W. Mangum, James N. Shelnut, Colonel J. Colton Lynes, Dr. J. W. Birdsong, Dan Ligon and Scott Baugh. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, Dr. C. A. Ridley officiating, and interment will be in West View.

Mrs. Minnie C. Akins.

Mrs. Minnie C. Akins, 21 years old, died Wednesday morning at the residence, 5 Bluff street. She is survived by her husband, C. C. Akins. The body was removed to the chapel of Greenberg & Bond, and will be taken Friday to Bishop, Ga., for funeral and interment.

Marion Powell Reynolds.

Marion Powell Reynolds, 3 months old, died at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Reynolds, 20 Prospect place, Wednesday morning. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence, with interment in Oakland.

J. T. Baldwin.

J. T. Baldwin, 57 years old, died Wednesday morning at the residence, 40 Robins street. He leaves a wife and five children. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the chapel of Barclay & Brandon, with interment in Hollywood.

Dublin's First Bale.

Dublin, Ga., August 14.—(Special.)—Dublin's first bale of cotton of the 1912 crop was received Saturday last, J. M. Adkins being the first man this year. The bale weighed 352 pounds, and was sold to the Georgia Warehouse and Compress company for 25 cents per pound, the bale bringing $88 in all. It was immediately resold to the Dixie Cotton company, a large exporting firm at this place. The first bale is twelve days later this year than the first one last year.

ONE BATTLESHIP FOR DEMOCRATS

Caucus Recedes From the "No Battleship" Program.

Washington, August 14.—After a fight extending over many weeks, house democrats today agreed in caucus to recede from their "no battleship program" in this session and to permit the battleship champions to vote for one such vessel. Unlike the four preceding caucuses, there was an absence of bitterness and by a rising vote of 95 to 11, the resolution of recession was put through. It is expected the senate will agree to the one-battleship plan, ending the deadlock over the naval bill. While the solid support of the majority will not be given to the battleship program, leaders are confident they will have far more than the necessary strength when aligned with the republican "friends of the navy."

The resolution embodying the recession states that no member is bound to vote for one battleship should he not desire to do so.

Representative Sulzer, of New York, who has led the fight for two battleships, sought to have the caucus release members to vote for one or two, as they saw fit. Chairman Padgett, of the naval affairs committee, opposed Mr. Sulzer's resolution on the ground that it would further complicate matters. The senate, he pointed out, already had expressed its willingness to compromise. Mr. Sulzer's resolution was then lost.

An effort will be made to have the warship to be authorized the largest and most formidable fighting craft ever laid down. The vessel, if its sponsors win their fight, would be equal in fighting ability to any two battleships below the dreadnaught size and far superior of any of the latter class now afloat. A sharp fight is expected on this program, however.

THIS LETTER WORTH $10,000 TO BRAKEMAN

W. M. Savage, formerly a brakeman in the employ of the Seaboard Air Line railway, sets $10,000 as the figure which a letter of recommendation is worth to him, in a suit brought by him against the road Wednesday in the city court. Savage alleges that he quit the service of the Seaboard, and was employed by the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic road for a few days, but when it became known that he had no letter of recommendation from his former employers he was discharged, and is now blacklisted in railroad circles.

HER CAB WAS LATE; SHE WANTS DAMAGES

Because a cab ordered by Mrs. Annie L. Chambers, of 272 Formwalt street, was three hours and a half late to carry her one block and a half, the Atlanta Baggage and Cab company will have to pay her $8,000, if she and her husband, O. G. Chambers, win the two suits filed by them on Wednesday in the city court.

Mrs. Chambers alleges that she was seriously ill, and ordered the cab to carry her from 100 Crumley street to the Formwalt address at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, but that the vehicle did not arrive until 8:30 o'clock that evening.

DISEASES OF MEN

I HAVE not hesitated in the past to denounce the methods of those fakers who claim to cure in a few days what all well-posted physicians know to be impossible. I claim that cases of stricture, deep urethral troubles, kidney and bladder affections are worthy of most careful attention, but the welfare of the patient must be considered first of all, and I believe that these cases frequently are gouged and bruised to the patient's detriment, when more careful and tender care would save much suffering and cure much quicker. My office has made a reputation for attention to detail and careful methods, backed up by the best laboratory equipment methods possible, and those who will appreciate the best I will always be pleased to have consult me or write me for information.

TRACTION LINES

The new line to Stone Mountain will operate over the South Decatur route.

In arriving and departing from Atlanta it will circle the block bounded by Central, Pryor, Hunter and Alabama.

Thousands will use this line because it will operate express service with possible stops at only Kirkwood, Decatur, etc.

This means increased values to streets mentioned above. Buy while they are cheap.
